Syrian Army Poses Threat To Lebanon

Report Of Turkey Says Troops Are Massed On Border

LONDON — UP — Semi-official Turkish sources said today in Ankara that Syria was massing troops on the border of Lebanon in another threat to peace in the troubled Middle East.

The sources said Syria, backed by a flow of arms and ammunition from the Soviet Union, hoped to force its tiny neighbor into the Communist orbit.

In Beirut, the Lebanese parliament urged veteran United Nations diplomat Dr. Charles Malek to rush to New York and do his best to salvage peace in the Mideast and prevent the area from becoming another Korea.

Concerned With Buildup

Turkey and Israel were both increasingly concerned with the reported buildup of Syrian armed strength. Israeli sources reported Turkey has itself moved 35,000 troops to the Syrian frontier, including an infantry brigade and an armed battalion.

An Israeli army spokesman announced last night Syrian troops opened automatic fire at noon yesterday on a public works engineer near Lake Huleh, the first border incident in weeks.

Iraq, a partner in the Baghdad Pact with Turkey, already has warned Syria it will take any action necessary to protect itself against threats to its independence.

Canal Zone Quiet

The situation in the Suez Canal Zone was relatively quiet, but charges by Britain, France and Israel that Egypt was planning the wholesale exile of thousands of their nationals increased the tension.

Good Evening!

November all but wrapped up.

Soon the month with all of its hurry, excitement. You'd better start hustling yourself —only 22 more shopping days.

Still no sledriding, skating, skiing. We're going to have to have a little conference with the weatherman.

But not until after that Army-Navy gridiron classic down at the stadium Saturday.

We still think it's too bad the services don't move that game around the nation from year to year so that more of America could see the country's very best and most inspiring show —live and in person.

However, you notice how the Yanks are doing in the Olympic games at Melbourne?

They're rolling up a commanding lead in points. Maybe the Kremlin is figuring on sending some "volunteers" down to Australia where the Russians are taking a licking?

More trouble brewing in the Middle East as Syria and Iraq begin to point swords at each other.

We might as well get accustomed to the idea that the Middle East will be a sore spot for a long time to come. You just don't cure in a year or so the miseries that were centuries in the making.

The Texan drove his car onto the toll bridge. The gatekeeper stopped him. "Fifty cents," said the gatekeeper.

The annoyed Texan fumbled in his pockets. "Son", he drawled, "I never carry 50 cents. How much do you want for the bridge?"

Breathes there the man with soul so dead who has never turned his head and said: "Hmmmm. Not bad."

If you drive, be careful.

Baby Sitting Proves Costly In This Case

A 15-year-old baby sitter and four teenage friends she invited over for a party while minding two young boys have been arrested on charges of taking $25 and several pieces of jewelry it was revealed by Bristol Township police today.

The girl was watching the seven-and-a-half and nine year-old sons of John W. Merrill, of 19 Grand Pine road, Goldenridge section, Levittown, from 3 p.m. to midnight Sunday. Merrill was at work during that time. His wife was visiting in Maine.

The baby sitter invited three boys and a girl friend over for dancing police said. Merrill said that when he returned home from work everything was quiet. He explained that he didn't know anything was wrong until Monday morning when he went to give his sons money for school.

Money Gone

The money was gone from the drawer, where he kept it. Also he said he noticed the drawer had been ransacked, and that a gold wedding band, a pair of cuff links, a silver dollar and several hunting knives were missing.

He called police who questioned the girl and rounded up her companions. One 17-year-old boy was returned to the county detention home from which he had been released on probation. Three other juveniles were released in the custody of their parents and an 18-year-old was released with no charges against him.

Merrill said that he and his wife had hired the girl many times over the past year and that she had always been reliable. "She is a nice girl but it seems that she just isn't too careful about her friends," he said.

He explained that the party was held in the early part of the evening while his sons were awake. They went to bed about 9 or 9:30 and the party apparently broke up at that time, Merrill said.

Telephone Strike Nears

NEW YORK — UP — Negotiators for long distance telephone operators and maintenance workers go into a final round of talks with the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. today. A union membership vote authorized a nation - wide strike at midnight if no agreement is reached.

A company spokesman said "some progress" had been made Tuesday night in talks with the Communications Workers of America. But Elaine T. Gleason, chief negotiator and president of CWA, said there was no progress.

Bargaining talks, which began Nov. 5, resume this morning.

The contract between the AT&T and CWA expires at midnight.

Union locals in the 48 states, representing 25,000 workers, voted 3 to 1 Tuesday night to give the CWA negotiators power to call a strike any time after midnight, a union spokesman said.

Typical Fall Weather Today

A near perfect fall day was enjoyed in Lower Bucks today.

There were blue skies with the temperature hovering about the 40 degree mark.

Tonight will be partly cloudy with the thermometer not expected to flip past the freezing mark.

Tomorrow's temperatures will be in the 50's with the reaction expected Friday when the forecast is for cold and clear.

Meanwhile, frost and ice gripped Florida today from the Georgia line southward to Miami. Truck crops were damaged and residents and tourists went scurrying for extra blankets and heating fuel.

Two Killed In Railroad Rescue Blast

Death Toll Reaches Five In Michigan Train-Truck Crash

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind. — UP — Two railroad workers were killed and seven others were injured today when a diesel locomotive fuel tank exploded as they tried to remove the charred bodies of three men killed in a fiery rail crossing collision 15 hours earlier.

The second explosion occurred as railroad wrecking crews used welding torches to cut apart the twisted metal of twin diesels and a gasoline transport truck which crashed and burned late yesterday.

It hiked the death toll in the accident to five.

The second blast killed George Marquardt, 56, LaCrosse, Ind., and Otto Herman Keehn, 48, Wanatah, Ind.

The injured were rushed in ambulances to Doctors Hospital at Michigan City.

Authorities said a fuel tank on one of the wrecked locomotives blew up while rail employes swarmed over the fire-blackened debris, trying to clear the blocked rails and salvage the bodies of the earlier dead.

The tank, described as a container about two by 10 feet in diameter, was hurled 40 feet into the side of a derailed boxcar by the force of the explosion.

Conspiracy Charge Against Rosen Is Dismissed

Conspiracy charges against Samuel Rosen were dismissed in Bucks County criminal court this morning by President Judge Edward G. Biester on the grounds that there was insufficient evidence to connect him with a Bristol safe burglary.

In making a motion to dismiss charges following completion of testimony by all state witnesses, Rosen's attorney, William L. Goldman, pointed out that the state had not shown there was an agreement by Rosen with the convicted burglars to commit an unlawful act.

In upholding Goldman's motion Judge Biester withdrew the case charges to be dropped.

The only witness testifying to-from the trial jury and permited day was Peter Grodsky, whose testimony paralleled that of his brother's yesterday.

Nathan Grodsky, 412 Otter street, Bristol, yesterday in Bucks County Criminal Court substantiated a "long-standing and current friendship" with the acquitted man who lives at 319 Radcliffe street, Bristol.

Rosen was charged with supplying information which led to the burglarizing of safes from the adjoining homes of Nathan and Peter Grodsky on June 16. The safes contained more than $12,000.

In School Yesterday, Nuns Report

Ten-Year-Old Seen Last By Family Monday Afternoon

Lower Bucks County police today continued their search for a 10-year-old Croydon boy who has been missing from his home since Monday afternoon.

The boy, John Grosser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Grosser, of 2050 Lincoln avenue, Croydon, was last seen at 2:30 p.m. Monday by his sister, Susan, 9.

She said she was boarding a school bus from St. Thomas Aquinas Catholic school when she saw her brother leaving the school grounds. The boy's mother said her son was a good student and very considerate towards his parents. She added that she could think of no reason why he would want to leave home.

She said Nuns at the school said the boy attended classes yesterday and that he appeared neat and clean although he didn't wear a necktie. However he was not in school today.

Bristol Township police said the boy is four feet tall and weighs 70 pounds. He has brown hair and blue eyes. At the time he disappeared on Monday he was wearing a blue coat with red stripes on the sleeves.

A truck driver told police chief John R. Stewart he saw a youngster answering the boy's description at 1:30 a.m. yesterday near Lincoln avenue, but the boy ran from the scene when he was approached.

His sister, Susan, was in tears last night. "I want him back. It's not the same without him," she sobbed.

Levittown Boy Hurt In Fall

A twelve-year-old Levittown boy was admitted to Lower Bucks County hospital yesterday afternoon after the front wheel of his bicycle flew off.

Jimmy Dowling, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Dowling, 85 Ailanthus lane, Appletree Hill, was thrown from his bike in Azalea lane.

The Levittown Emergency Squad took the boy to the hospital with a slight concussion and abrasions of the right hand and knee.

Youth Freed On Burglary Rap In Falls

Court Dismisses Charges On Lack Of Evidence

A 21-year-old youth accused of burglarizing Reedman Motors, Route 1, Falls township, was set free in Bucks County Criminal Court yesterday for lack of sufficient evidence to connect him with the crime.

William Morrison, whose address is listed as Walton street, Bristol, won a dismissal of the charges against him following testimony by all the witnesses for the state before a trial jury.

Judge I. Louis Rubin upheld a motion by Morrison's attorney, Harriet Mims, for a demurrer to the evidence and would not let the case go to the jury.

Morrison, who had a Philadelphia address at the time of his arrest, allegedly took part in the burglary on Feb. 22 with Donald Alston, 19, of Philadelphia, and a juvenile.

Alston subsequently pleaded guilty and on May 8 was sentenced to three months to 364 days in Bucks County Prison. He implicated Morrison in the burglary.

Morrison had to await the outcome of a Philadelphia burglary charge before he could be brought to trial in Bucks County.

Alston pleaded guilty to trying to burglarize four new spare tires and wheels from the trunks of autos on the Reedman Motors parking lot. The tires and wheels were valued at $43 each.

State police of the Fairless Hills barracks prosecuted the case.

News! Horse Rams Car

A Langhorne man was injured late yesterday afternoon after a horse ran into the side of his car.

Richard J. Derry, 42, of 202 Cherry street, was traveling west on U.S. Route 1 at 5:30 p.m. yesterday when a horse ran in front of his vehicle. He slowed down to allow the animal to cross the road and as he resumed speed, a second horse ran into the left side of his car.

Derry was treated at Lower Bucks County Hospital for a laceration of the left eyeball sustained by glass particles from a broken windshield.

The animals belonged to Bradshaw Snipes, who resides along the road at Snipes Corner.

In addition to the broken windshield, the door on the left side of the car was damaged.

Neither of the horses were injured.

Breakfast Club To Seat Officers

Officers of the Credit Women's Breakfast Club of Lower Bucks County will be installed tonight at the group's first annual banquet at the Fiesta, Eddington, at 7 o'clock.

Miss Betty Moosa, acting president, will take office as full-term president. Mrs. Jessica Heaton will be installed as first vice president; Miss Mildred Johnson, second vice president; Mrs. Catherine Hallowell, secretary and Mrs. Betty Baker, treasurer.

Doctors Keep Watchful Eye On 3-Year-Old

Linconia Youngster Took Pheno-Barbitol Tablets Last Night

Doctors at the Delaware Valley Osteopathic Hospital this morning continued their close watch on a three-year-old Linconia boy who came close to death last night after swallowing 36 sedative tablets.

Hospital officials said the boy, Fred Creasy, of 2362 Kay avenue, was in improved condition today. His condition was critical last night when he was admitted to the hospital.

The boy's mother, Pearl, arrived home last night to discover he had eaten 36 phenobarbitol tablets, a dose doctors said was strong enough to kill an adult. She took him to the office of a Trevose physician, who pumped clear his stomach.

Because many of the tablets apparently had already been absorbed in his system, Fred was taken to the hospital emergency room at 9:30 p.m. A team of doctors under Dr. Arnold Melnick, chief of pediatrics, worked two and one-half hours with antidotes before he regained consciousness. This morning he was receiving oxygen.

The youth's father, home on vacation, was baby-sitting with his two children yesterday. Mr. Creasy said the infant kept running through the house with a large monkey-doll and was apparently eating the pills kept in the parent's bedroom on the dresser.

"I didn't know anything was wrong with the boy," Mr. Creasy said, "until his mother came home from a scout meeting and noticed that he was groggy."

"We rushed him to a doctor after we discovered that he had taken all those pills and then we took him to the hospital." Mr. Creasy said.

Two Bumpy Bensalem Township Roads Serve As Main Arteries For Thousands

By GORDON PARKER
Courier-Times Staff Writer

Two narrow, bumpy macadam roads which fice arteries for Lower fice arteries for Lower Bucks County prove the inadequacy of the state's highway program.

The roads—State road, which runs from City line up to the Route 413 approach of the Burlington-Bristol Bridge, and Street road, which runs from State road to Route 1—serve as vital links for motorists.

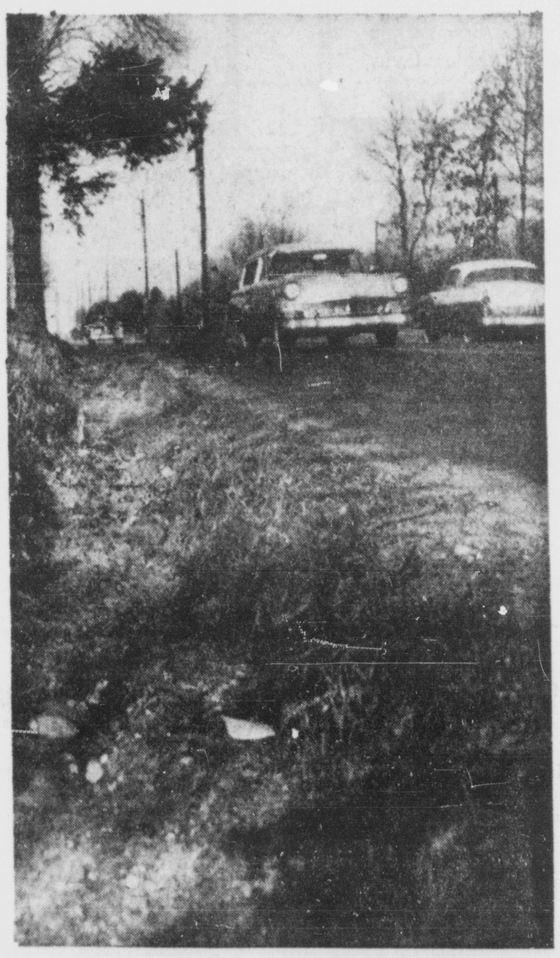
But because of the poor conditions they have become extremely hazardous to the ever increasing volume of traffic.

Street road which extends north and south through the entire length of Bensalem township is featured by numerous drainage ditches which run perilously close to the edge of the road.

Hidden Curves

State road, over which many local residents travel to jobs in Philadelphia and many Philadelphians use to come to factories in this area, is pocked-marked and patched in numerous places.

In fact everything that a road shouldn't be is what State road is. Jagged edges from crumbling shoulders reach towards the center of the two-lane "highway".



Motorists have to skirt this deep ditch that runs along side Street road just east of Route 1. At points the ditch runs as deep as three feet. (Courier and Times photo)

Hidden, fall-away curves lie in wait for unwary drivers. One curve is particularly dangerous. It is located about half a mile east of Mill road, Andalusia.

Driving towards Philadelphia the road seems to simply drop out of sight. As you approach the road dips and curves sharply around a large tree growing just off the shoulder of the road.

Just in case the unsuspecting driver spots the curve in time there is a well-placed bump which is guaranteed to throw his vehicle out of control and head it towards the broken shoulder on the other side of the crest of the rise.

Bensalem Police Chief William Riempp said that both roads cause most of the one-car accidents in the township. These generally happen when a driver loses control of his vehicle after a bad bump. "Something should be done. They are in terrible shape," he said.

Levittown Incorporation Study Petitions Ready

The Levittown Times

THE Daily Newspaper of Lower Bucks County

Wednesday Evening, November 28, 1956 — Second Front Page

Honorable Mention

Circulation Plans Drawn Up By LCA

Petitions requesting a study be made on the incorporation of Levittown will be ready for distribution today.

At a meeting last night of the incorporation study committee of the Levittown Civic association, John Bowers, chairman, announced the petitions have been drawn up.

The committee also decided upon an organizational set-up for circulation of the petitions. Mr. Bowers will serve as chairman for the entire operation. Subchairman for each of the four municipalities comprising Levittown will be appointed, as well as sectional and street captains.

Independent Organization

The petitions will request the governing bodies of Bristol township, Middletown township, Falls township, and Tullytown borough to request an impartial survey by an independent organization such as the Institute of State and Local Government of the University of Pennsylvania. The survey is to determine the feasibility or desirability of uniting the municipalities.

Local governing bodies must make the request for a study by the Institute of State and Local Government before they will undertake a survey.

Mr. Bowers sad that anyone interested in circulating a petition should contact him at WI 5-4712 or Mrs. Julius Frankel, at WI 5-2296.

Captain Kangaroo Visits Levittown

Three thousand Levittown youngsters and their parents flocked to Pomeroy's yesterday to greet Captain Kangaroo, of television fame. The crowungsters in the orthopedic wing of Lower Bucks escalators had to be stopped to prevent a congestion on the second floor of the store. The CBS television star, however, disappointed some 27 youngsters in the orthopedic wing of Lower Buck County Hospital. He was to appear at the hospital, but at the last minute, a spokesman informed authorities that because of the crowds he would not have time to make an appearance.

Lower Bucks Takes Big Step Forward

Lower Bucks County Hospital took a big step forward today when officials announced that an intern training program has been approved for the hospital.

It was disclosed that the Council on Medical Education and Hospitals of the American Medical Association has accepted the hospital's application for intern training.

End of School Year

First interns in Lower Bucks county will begin training at the hospital at the end of the school year in July.

The hospital will accept six interns a year on a rotating basis. They will receive training in all branches of medical education.

Dr. Joseph McMullin, representing the Council on Medical Education of the American Medical Association made a survey last month of the hospital's facilities.

Hospital facilities were examined including records and possibilities of intern education.

The Association's approval today was the result.

Interns will come from approved medical schools in the country, hospital officials said.

A conscious effort will be made, however, to place qualified medical school graduates from the Lower Bucks area in the hospital program.

Interns will study for a year and then either move on to private practice or become residents at the Lower Bucks County hospital or any other hospital they choose.

Hospital officials announced great pleasure in the acceptance of the program.

Step Forward

"This is a giant step forward for a hospital of only two years old," a spokesman said.

"It mirrors great confidence in the hospital facilities and the staff," he said.

The hospital was built to accommodate 150 patients, but has lately been providing facilities for 250 patients.

More than 100 physicians in the area are connected with the hospital and three full-time residents are on hand. The hospital also staffs two full-time radiologists, two pathologists and one anesthetist.

Seeing Levittown

By JIM ORT

Heard rumors that four model homes and an administration building are to be erected in Levittown, N. J., by Christmas.

No shortage of fuel oil in store for Levittowners because of the current crisis in the Middle East, according to a report by Edward E. Esterline, executive secretary of the Greater Philadelphia Fuel conference. He said a survey showed that fuel oil inventories are at near maximum capacity. He pointed out Philadelphia is the second largest refining area in the U. S. and is an exporting port, not an importing one.

The United Fund drive in Levittown is not complete to date. Residents of the Vermilion Hills section will be visited this Saturday and Sunday. Mrs. Albert Pollack, 131 Vermilion drive, has recently volunteered her services as captain. Volunteer workers in the section are to meet Friday at 2 p.m. in her home.

Weston Move Overruled

The motion of Cyril Weston, West Rockhill township lawyer, to delete more than 200 pages of testimony in his court house injunction action before the State Supreme Court was overruled yesterday in Bucks County court.

Judges Edward P. Little, of Susquehanna County and I. Louis Rubin, of Bucks County, ruled that "all the testimony in the case be submitted" when it comes before the Supreme Court in January. He asked to delete 221 of the 327 pages of testimony.

British planes flew over Port Said and dropped thousands of leaflets urging the Egyptian populace to return to work and telling them that Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser "let you down."

Reluctant to Leave

Britain and France were reported even more reluctant to pull all of their troops from the Suez Canal Zone and leave to Egypt the task of cleaning out the canal, blocked by more than 40 ships sunk by the Egyptians.

Egyptian Municipal Minister Abdel Latif Boghdadi told the United Press his experts expected to clear the canal in less than four months, but he said Egypt would not even permit salvage work to start until the Anglo-French expeditionary force withdraws.

Rosen Conspiracy Charge Dismissed

than Grodsky, in his testimony, refuted in part much of the earlier testimony of the state's chief witness, Dominic Lattanzi, 227 Railroad avenue, Bristol.

Enters Second Day

Lattanzi and two other men are currently serving prison terms for the burglary. A fourth is awaiting sentencing, and the fifth, Albert A. (Al the Comet) Kumitis, is to be tried next month.

Despite gruelling cross-examination yesterday by Rosen's attorney, William L. Goldman, Doylestown, Lattanzi insisted that Rosen supplied the information as to how much money ($100,000 was supposed to be in Nathan Grodsky's safe alone) was in the safes, where they were located and that he (Rosen) was the one who suggested the "job" in the first place.

Claims Didn't Want Money

Lattanzi said Rosen was angry at Grodsky "and wanted to get even." He claimed "Rosen said he had a falling out with 'Nate' Grodsky. He was pretty well peeved, but he wouldn't tell me what it was about."

"He (Rosen) just wanted the safes taken out," Lattanzi testified. "He wasn't interested in the money."

The victim, Grodsky, testified that he has known Rosen since 1951 or 1952, when Rosen fixed part of Grodsky's slaughterhouse roof. He said that after that, Rosen visited his home on numerous occasions.

"Rosen and I bought some land about 1953, but we dissolved the partnership in 1954. I had a heart attack and didn't want to go on with the venture," Grodsky said.

Lattanzi testified earlier in the day that Rosen had told him about the Grodsky safes in the latter part of 1949, after the alleged "falling out" between Rosen and Grodsky.

However, Grodsky testified that "Rosen had never been in my home before 1951 or 1952."

Two Were Friendly

Under cross-examination, Grodsky said, "Our relations (Rosen's and his) were always friendly. We never had any bad blood between us. We are still friendly today, and my wife goes out regularly with Mrs. Rosen."

Grodsky further testified, "I never discussed the money or safes with Rosen. The average money kept in the safes was $4,000 to $5,000, which we'd (he and his brother) take to the bank."

He drew a laugh from spectators when he said, "I never kept $100,000 there. I wish I had that (much)."

Lattanzi also testified earlier that he had never been in the Grodsky home, but Grodsky said he was there "several times" in 1953-1954. He said Lattanzi's visits were confined to the kitchen. The stolen safe was taken from a living room closet.

Other witnesses testifying yesterday included Cpl. Andrew Kutney, Fairless Hills state police, Det. Vincent Faragalli, Bristol borough poice, and County Detective Clarence Irwin.

Bumpy Roads

near Bristol, bears out the chief's statement.

Patches Patched Up

Your car lurches, jounces, bounces and shudders as it hits a series of bumps, ruts and holes. In some spots even the patches have patches.

Street road is no better. In fact it is worse in some respects. The worst stretch is near Nottingham Village at Route 1. Here the road is full of bumps and edged with deep ditches on either side. At some points the ditches lap right up to the road surface.

The ditches run up to two or three feet deep and resemble wide gorges. Chief Riempp said that numerous times cars have slipped or skidded into the trenches.

Heading toward Eddington the road is not much better. At Stanwood, a new housing development, the road has been widened but motorists are jolted by a series of hard bumps.

The surface continues poor down to the new township high school with numerous cave ins along the shoulders. From the school down to Route 13, Street road is in fair condition.

Not Isolated Cases

These two roads are not isolated cases. In previous stories the "miserable condition" of several other state roads and bridges has been pointed out.

The state road building program in this area has been almost at a standstill while population and automobile traffic has been increasing at an amazing rate.

Despite the increase in traffic and the number of accidents the state highway department has stated that it has no plans to widen two one-lane bridges on Newportville road and Bristol-Oxford Valley road. There is also a lack of plans for the repair or widening of Penn Valley road, which has been reduced to shambles by heavy truck and automobile traffic. At the same time, Bristol-Oxford Valley road, in Middletown Township, remains a series of ruts and mud holes. More than 2000 Levittown families are forced to use this dirt road.

Jury Finds Rapist Guilty

A Bucks County Criminal Court jury, composed of four women and eight men, yesterday found Columbus T. Robinson, Langhorne, guilty of the rape of his landlady on Sept. 1.

Robinson, 26, roomed at 314 West Richardson avenue, and raped his landlady, after threatening and cutting her with a knife at least four times.

Judge Edwin H. Satterthwaite deferred immediate sentencing. He ordered Robinson to be examined under the auspices of the state department of welfare, to see if he should be committed under the Sex Offenders Act.

The jury deliberated for almost an hour before returning to the courtroom at 5:15 p.m. At that time, members asked Judge Satterthwaite to redefine the term of rape.

Getting their definition, they returned to the courtroom again at 5:25 p.m. with the guilty verdict.

Witnesses also testifying were Mrs. Carrie Blair, another roomer at the house, and James Faillace, of Fairless Hills state police, who investigated the case.

Emergency Squad Gets 819 Calls

The Levittown Emergency Squad has answered 819 calls this year, chief driver Lou Cooper reported at a meeting of the squad last night.

He also noted the squad responded to 108 calls this month and has traveled 2500 miles.

The auxiliary presented a check for $50 to the squad for the purchase of equipment.

Bucks Men Warned On Unification Plan

The Bucks County Boroughs Association last night was warned to steer clear of "pressure groups" seeking to push metropolitan unification plans from Philadelphia.

Julian W. Barnard, vice president of the Pennsylvania State Boroughs association, blasted plans of Joseph S. Clark, former mayor of Philadelphia and U.S. Senator-elect, to embrace sections of Bucks, Montgomery and Delaware Counties into a Greater Philadelphia Metropolitan area.

Morrisville Meeting

The Association met at the Morrisville VFW Hall, with Robert Hershey, of Hulmeville, presiding.

Mr. Barnard warned: "Watch this unification movement and the pressure groups behind it. They seek to control your government, police, schools and other services."

The speaker said the Fraternal Order of Police has "one of the most powerful lobbies in Harrisburg," and ridiculed the FOP for pushing for pension laws to retire policemen at 41, to draw one half his salary, when he has just reached the "prime of his experience and training."

"Says 60 Limit"

Mr. Barnard said, "A policeman should be at least 60 before he is eligible for any kind of pension, unless he is disabled."

Fifty-seven municipal officials attended, representing 12 boroughs in the county. The next meeting will be held Feb. 26, 1957.

Fire Company To Get Truck

The Fairless Hills Volunteer Fire company, at special meeting recently, moved to purchase a new Mack fire truck at a cost of $17,579.

Delivery of the truck is expected within three to four months.

Out of three bids received, the company voted to purchase the Mack truck because of numerous special features. The 225 horsepower truck is a 750 gallon per minute pumper with a 500 gallon booster tank. It also will be equipped with double electric reels.

John Rock, president of the company, disclosed that $3,300 has been donated toward the purchase of the truck. He also announced that no settlement has been reached with the insurance company for reimbursement of damage to the company's truck which was involved in an accident several months ago at the intersection of the Levittown parkway and Newportville-Fallsington road.

John O'Hare, is chairman of a committee to negotiate with the Mack company. Other members are R. Stover, Pete Lee Jr., Harold Becker, and James Conklin.

Driver Held After Chase

A Merchantville, N.J. motorist who led Bristol Township police in a 90-mile hour chase clear into Burlington, N.J., early this morning, faces drunken driving charges.

Patrolmen William Jayne and Henry Kleckner spotted a car, driven by Edward Guenther, 6502 Browning road, Merchantville, speeding on Route 413 near Delhaas high school.

They started out after the car. Patrolman Jayne reported the fleeing car hit speeds up to 85 and 90 miles-an-hour as it headed toward the Burlington-Bristol Bridge.

It continued its high speeds over the bridge, Jayne said. "He took a couple of the turns on the bridge at 65 miles-an-hour. He is lucky he isn't swimming right now," the officer said.

The police continued the chase and caught up with the suspect just past the toll booths on the New Jersey side of the Bridge.

They brought him back to Lower Bucks County Hospital, where he was pronounced intoxicated. He was then given a hearing before JP Earl B. Dougherty, of Edgely, who set $1000 bail for a hearing on Dec. 20.

Guenther was unable to raise bail at first and spent the rest of the night in Bristol Borough jail. He was released this morning.

Levittowner Faces Charge

A Levittown driver was charged with reckless driving after his car struck a bus on Mill Creek parkway late yesterday afternoon.

William J. Walsh, Jr., 33, of 129 Farmbrook drive, told Falls township patrolman Wallace McCamish his attention was diverted when an object fell from the dashboard of his car to the floor.

The bus owned by the Neibauer Bus Company and operated by John F. McDaniel, 35, of 976 Dickson avenue, Croydon, was stopped at New Pond lane, North Park, to discharge passengers.

There were 22 passengers in the bus at the time of the collision. None was injured.

McCamish was assisted by John Lent.

$200 Fine Levied On Falls Offense

Charles Duers, New York City, pleaded guilty to a Falls township drunken driving offense yesterday in county criminal court and was fined $200 and costs of prosecution.

Duers was arrested by township police after he hit a car owned by Harry Potts, 16 Vestry lane, Vermilion Hills, Levittown, on Route 1 at the Thriftmart.

The accident occurred on Oct. 16. Duers was pronounced under the influence of alcohol by Dr. William Suter, Fairless Hills.

School Head Is Speaker

A talk by Dr. Willard Stevens, superintendent of Scotland School, the American Legion orphan home, will highlight a meeting tonight of Levittown Memorial Post No. 960.

Dr. Stevens will outline the general operation of the school, located near Chambersburg, at 8:30 p.m. in the Levittown Emergency Squad Headquarters behind the Bristol Township Police Building.

The Memorial Post and Levittown Command Post No. 932 have joined to bring children from the school to Levittown during the Christmas holidays. Thus far, 125 Levittown families have expressed a desire to bring children into their homes.

Since the school is quite a distance from Levittown, public transportation is needed to bring the orphans here. The posts need donations to help finance the trip.

Industrial Tract Action Delayed

Demands of Southampton citizens have forced a delay in action on the proposed 200-acre industrial - commercial - residential development for the southern part of Upper Southampton township.

With standing room only in the township's small municipal building, the citizens voiced protests last night against any hasty action by the board of supervisors.

The public hearing was called to hear arguments and decide whether certain zoning adjustments should be made to permit construction of the project. However, the supervisors agreed, after hours of debate, to delay action until advice of the Bucks County Planning Commission is sought.

What Price Management?

Commissioners are searching far and wide for an experienced manager to administer multiple Bristol township affairs. They hope that in the next few months they will have found the right man for a job of considerable responsibility.

We believe they were wise in adopting a township manager plan, considering the size of the township and the ever increasing problems brought about by continually increasing population. They are wise, too, in being somewhat discriminate in their search.

We are wondering, however, just how far we can afford to go with this municipal manager idea in Lower Bucks county. If this trend for managers for every borough and township continues, isn't it possible that we'll be pricing ourselves out of other essential services we won't be able to buy because of the high cost of management?

For example, Middletown township operates under the township manager program. Lower Southampton just recently installed a manager.

Bensalem township has been talking about an expert to handle its affairs. Bristol borough has also considered the idea.

If this thing continues catching on, logically we'll be getting managers in Falls township, Tullytown, Morrisville, Lower Makefield township, the Langhornes (including Penndel and Hulmeville), Newtown and, well, okay, Upper Southampton township and Yardley.

Cost of managers varies, of course. Salaries range anywhere from $7,000 to $15,000. You take your choice and pay for what you get.

Now there are 13 possible manager posts in Lower Bucks. Let's assume the average pay for managing would be $10,000 annually.

Would you believe it? No less than $130,000 a year spent by the taxpayers just to be managed? Isn't that a bit steep for a community of some 170,000—give or take a few thousand—souls?

All of this may be somewhat farfetched. But there's a point involved.

We like the municipal manager idea where a municipality is of sufficient size to warrant an expert in governmental affairs and where the manager IS ALLOWED TO MANAGE.

But to employ a manager in some of these smaller areas merely as a fancy and extravagant accoutrement to government is little less than sheer folly reflecting unwillingness of regularly elected officials to dispatch a public responsibility they asked for and shouldered when they were voted into office. And it would reflect, too, in more cases than not, an incapacity of the elected official to do his job.

And of course, the cost represents a burden the taxpayer shouldn't have to assume.

Mrs. Luce's Record A Worthy One

Mrs. Clare Boothe Luce, retiring ambassador to Italy, has not always had the easiest time of it. But accounts from Italy indicate she has earned the rest she now seeks from her unfortunate illness. For she is widely credited with having done an excellent job.

When she represented Connecticut in the U.S. House during the 1940's, she was an articulate but often controversial figure. Later she sought her state's senate nomination but failed to make it.

Then President Eisenhower named her ambassador to Rome and the Italians complained at the idea of a woman being named to a major diplomatic post.

But Mrs. Luce bent all her will and energy to learning her job, to understanding the Italian people and their problems. She rode out the steady barrage of Communist jokes against her. When her retirement was announced, leading Italian papers paid high tribute to her work. They see her as a true friend and helper.

An ambassador's impression on a foreign land is far from the sole measure of his usefulness. But it is a powerful sign of effectiveness in diplomacy. Mrs. Luce has gained her credits.

Extending a Helping Hand

Most Americans would surely agree that the arrival of Hungarian refugees in our midst is a wonderful and touching event.

There is inescapable drama in any flight to freedom, especially when it follows so closely upon the horrors the refugees have suffered under a repressive tyranny.

We can be proud that we are extending so hospitable a welcome to these embattled folk who are giving up their homeland forever.

It is heartening, too, that Rep. Francis Walter of Pennsylvania, not known as a champion of liberal immigration policies, favors opening the way for 12,000 more Hungarians above and beyond the 5,000 already invited to America.

Walter has seen with his own eyes what these people have endured. As he watched them stream across the Hungarian-Austrian border, a shot rang out and a refugee hurrying toward freedom fell 100 yards from his goal.

Wisely we have trimmed red tape overseas to speed the refugees' passage here. Let's hope no untoward delays at their entry port — Camp Kilmer, N.J. — slow their transfer to waiting U.S. homes and jobs.

Authorities say that Americans, acting through church and welfare organizations, have opened their arms to more Hungarians than are presently expected. They have been wonderpeople need and our government insists they must be assured if they are to stay: a roof over their heads and a livelihood.

In all the countless details of preparation for their arrival, some things stand out as affecting evidence of our willingness to help. For instance, a GI band practicing Hungarian gypsy music; boxloads of diapers for the baby refugees, giving Army officers new ideas about logistics; a library stocked with Hungarian books and newspapers.

American heartiness may in fact slightly overwhelm some of our new visitors. We like to make welcoming speeches.

But whatever their problems in adjusting to a new land, most newcomers will find them small compared to their recent troubles. Burned deep in their minds are scenes of death and destruction as the Soviet iron fist pounded their native land. And their newspapers here will tell them of spreading epidemics to add to the catalogue of misery left behind.

They will never forget the past. But we can be glad we are helping to give them a future.

Big Chinchilla Expose

By Earl Wilson

New York — Saloon Society has a new game about the expensive women who wear chinchilla — called "Which one has the phony?"

"Imitation chinchilla," or dyed rabbit, is now on the market at about one-twentieth the price of chincilla. And some very clever dolls are bamboozling their friends, because the rabbit looks so chinchillaish it takes a furrier to detect it.

Mr. Wilson

The imitation is quite like "chinchillette" of 1930.

I found it on sale at one of New York's famous stores.

"Can you tell the difference?" I asked a pretty model.

She was showing me a chinchilla wrap at $3,500 and a dyed rabbit wrap at only $250.

"Not by the fur — but by the style — and the price!" she said.

The expert dye job that makes the rabbit look as good — or even better — than chinchilla, is done in France and Germany, source of the rabbits. Most chinchillas seen on the backs of expensive ladies come from California.

This being the "chinchilla year," any woman with a new chinchilla can be sure her best false friends are buzzing about whether she has the genuine or the phony.

And consider the embarrassment of a girl who became awfully nice to a beau who gave her a chinchilla — then discovered she has rabbit.

I heard of one such girl rushing her "chinchilla" to a furrier to have him test it. . .it was sort of a "rabbit test."

One woman I know bought the dyed rabbit because it was cheaper and because it was attractive.

"And I'm having so much fun with it," she says. "I tell all my close friends I'm wearing the rabbit and as for my acquaintances, I let them wonder — and gossip."

Freedom of Divorce

By Ruth Millett

Judging from my mail the big problem of divorcees is: "How to get a husband?"

I sometimes wish the dissatisfied wives who write me could read the letters from divorcees.

Miss Millett

While the unhappy wife is miserable because her husband has faults or because her marriage seems dull or because her husband isn't easy to live with, the divorcee is miserable because she hasn't got a man of her own.

Many of these divorcees are in their 30's and 40's and 50's and even those who have jobs claim they have no way of meeting eligible men.

As one puts it: "I've been divorced a year and a half and I am getting so tired of working all day and coming home to a lonely apartment. About all I do for recreation is go out with some of the girls from the office on Saturday night. But that doesn't help me meet men. If I could just find a husband I would do everything in the world to try and make him happy."

DID THEY APPRECIATE THEIR HUSBANDS?

The sad thing about these letters is that these women once had husbands. Did they fully appreciate the husbands they once had? Were they willing when they were married to make all the compromises necessary to make their marriages work out? Or did they expect too much of men and too much of marriage?

Any wife who ever lets the thought of divorce enter her head should think about these lonely divorcees who, now that they have their freedom, want just one thing — to get married again.

It may be a lot easier to hold onto the husband you have than to find a new one. And even fighting with a husband may be a less lonely life than living alone.

Think it over, wives, before you ever even mention the word "divorce."

The Namby-Pamby Way

By William Brady, M.D.

Most American schoolboys can not themselves.

So the physical education experts purpose to omit this stunt from the standard tests to determine whether a boy is physically capable — say to qualify for a commission in the army, navy, or air corps.

Dr. Brady

After all, it seems pretty silly to build our national defense with material selected on such a basis. Even if a boy can't chin himself, he may still be able to press a button as well as the next fellow if our foreign aid programs should ever run dry and some disgruntled have-nots start shooting.

The experts who would eliminate the chinning test did not explain, but one of them suggested why European schoolboys make American schoolboys look like namby-pambies in actual performance. In Europe they walk or run to and from school, and often for considerable distances. In America they ride.

It is not the youngsters' fault that they are weak and steadily getting weaker. It is, I think, the fault of education. I mean to say their education is being sadly neglected. The physical part of it, that is.

Never heard of physical education when I was a boy on Chapel Street in Canandaigua, though some teachers regularly led their classes in calisthenics. However, I'm sure we kids on Chapel Street, in the Butt End and probably the youngsters in the rest of the village received a better physical education than school children in village or city get today. We walked to and from school, and we played after school and in vacation time.

On Chapel Street and on most of the streets youngsters played without restriction whenever they wished. Vehicles used the street occasionally but nobody infringed on our right to play ball on the street in the summer time or coast and bobsled there in the winter.

Automobile traffic has virtually deprived youngsters in villages and in cities of the right to play. Playgrounds? Even getting to and from the playground involves hazard. Playgrounds clutter up the community, and they are noisy. The most elaborately equipped and staffed playground can scarcely compare with the street where you live and—or your own yard, neither of which is available today, except for the few kids lucky enough to live in a small village.

Dogs and kids brought up in villages or small towns lead the life of Riley — or maybe I should say they did so before everybody got a license to own a deadly weapon, the automobile.

Because such freedom to play has been lost, along with other freedoms we formerly enjoyed in Yankeeland, we parents and grandparents are morally bound to see to it that school children receive a course of physical training under competent teachers and that all school children, except those disabled by disease or defect, be required to DO certain things to qualify for graduation — such as chin themselves, swim ten yards, turn a handspring or cartwheel or do six push ups.

As so-called physical education is administered in most schools, there seems to be no definite course, no particular goal to aim for, and no specific examination or test at the end of the term to show whether the student has gotten anything worth while. This is scandalous — not just because it is wasteful but because it is unfair to the future citizens of America.

President and Staff

By Peter Edson

Eisenhower has taken steps to leave a valuable legacy to his successor.

That's adequate office space in which to conduct the business of the White House.

Mr. Edson

As it is now, White House secretaries are jammed into tiny corners where they bark their elbows typing. Filing cabinets are located in washrooms. The President's aides occupy broom - closet space.

When the President wants to receive more than a delegation of five he has to do it in the back yard. If more than a dozen people are waiting for an appointment some have to stand outside. Many a city hall in the U.S. has a bigger and better press room than the one in the White House.

It has been accurately tagged "Club Claustrophobia."

Ike was irked at the poor office accommodations when he moved in four years ago but didn't want to complain. However, as sooon as he was reelected, and it was clear that he wouldn't benefit personally, he set up the Advisory Commission on Presidential Office Space which is supposed to make recommendations to Congress by February.

The President won't benefit because it will take at least four years to unwind the red tape on such a project, and then actually build it. The Fine Arts Commission and a half-dozen other outfits are in on such an act. It's almost easier to amend the Constitution than to tamper with the White House. President Truman found that out with his back porch project.

What can be done to relieve the office space bind is pretty obvious. Everyone who has looked into the matter has come up with a similar solution. That's to tear down the grotesque old State Department building which is right next to the White House grounds and erect a modern office building.

What is needed, everyone agrees, is a building with facilities similar to those of the United Nations offices. It should contain several conference rooms where the Cabinet and National Security Council can meet, for example.

A room is needed where the President can meet with groups numbering more than 100 persons. Now, when he wants to address big delegations of mayors, state officials, or diplomats he has to go to a hotel to do it.

The new office should contain a couple of dining rooms for official entertaining by the President and for the general use of persons who have to work in the building. In the present setup there's a woeful lack of room for the elaborate TV equipment needed when the President or his assistants want to use that medium.

In a new building which was part of the White House grounds the personal security of the President would be a simpler problem. Now, for example, he must walk outside and across the street to get to his weekly press conferences.

The Secret Service puts pressure on the President to turn down many appointments to meet and address groups because it means leaving the grounds, with extra danger for him.

There has also been some thinking about what would be done with the west wing of the White House which was built in 1902 as a temporary addition and which now serves as the office space. It would be possible to turn this into a museum.

At present there is no room for all of the historical paintings, pieces of furniture and other objects of art which belong to the White House. A museum wing would make the Executive Mansion a more attractive sightseeing spot.

True Love, Infatuation

By Dr. George W. Crane

Case T-331: Louise M., aged 17, told her high school teacher she was going to elope, so the teacher sent Louise to me.

"Dr. Crane, I am madly in love with Frank," Louise exclaimed with great fervor.

Dr. Crane

"Besides, my home life is so unhappy, I just feel I shall go away from my parents.

"They are quarreling all the time. And my father gets drunk almost every week. Then he comes home and beats my mother and me.

"So I think marriage would solve my problems, don't you?"

Girls, if you simply wish to get away from an unhappy home, there are better outlets available which you should try before a hasty marriage.

For example, join the womens division in our military service. Therein you will get a good education and also be away from your quarreling parents.

But never rush into hasty marriage as an escape from unhappiness at home. That is unfair to your husband, as well as to yourself.

Outlined below are some of the underlying reasons why girls rush into weddings, even though they seldom admit them so frankly until they break down under a rigid cross-examination by a psychologist or other Marriage Counsellor.

First, girls often decide on a wedding because it seems the fashionable thing to do. This is especially true in rural and small town areas where the coeds in the senior year of high school are often engaged and planning weddings soon after commencement.

Many a girl is thus stampeded by social pressure. She feels she isn't in the approved top social bracket unless she does what the rest of her crowd are doing.

This, incidentally, indicates a "sheep" type of personality. Such a girl is also likely to smoke cigarets, drink liquor and do whatever else seems to be popular with her group.

ESCAPE WEDDINGS

Other girls, like Louise, have unhappy homes, so they marry to escape the situation.

Alas, girls who grow up in unhappy homes are not likely to have the know-how to build happy homes of their own.

So they often foist upon their own youngsters the same type of discord from which they tried to escape by their early elopement.

Some selfish women also marry to avoid having to get up early every week-day to go to an office or factory job.

They imagine a wife has a life of indolence. This is the opposite of the real facts, especially if a wife is accepting her proper obligations.

For a successful housewife has the most difficult career any woman can ever select. It far exceeds in complexity the demands upon a woman lawyer or a female physician.

INFATUATION VS. LOVE

Many weddings also occur because immature girls get infatuated after their first kiss and mistake such sexual excitement with true love. There is a vast difference!

True love is unselfish. Sexual infatuation is exceedingly selfish and demanding. It is the type that leads to premarital sexual affairs.

True love thus involves waiting until the prospective husband has a good trade or profession so he can support a family.

And till the wife has finished high school, plus at least a year of Business College or university work, plus another year on a job where she can learn how to earn and budget money.

True love can survive a rigid rating of yourself and your sweetheart, so send for the 200-point "Tests for Sweethearts," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20c.

Beware the urge to rush into marriage, for that very fact usually indicates infatuation; not true love!

Stay Happy, Drive Better

ANN ARBOR, Mich, — UP — People who have frequent accidents might find the cause in their own mental state, according to a University of Michigan psychiatrist.

Dr. M.M. Frohlich explained that some people hurt themselves "accidentally on purpose" for any number of reasons. The most common, he points out, are to gain affection, to lessen feelings of guilt or to hurt someone close to them.

"All of this happens in spite of the person's conscious efforts to avoid accidents," added the doctor.

Frohlich described such "accident-prone" persons as impulsive, active individuals who use little deliberation and aren't likely to confide their emotions or inner problems to others.

Tragedy Stalks Hungarian Border

EISENSTADT, Austria — UP — A Hungarian refugee asked an Austrian frontier guard to look after his eight-month-old son while he crossed back into Hungary to pick up his pregnant wife waiting behind a few hundred yards inside Hungary.

Shortly after the man had crossed back into Hungary shooting was heard on the other side and the area was later sealed off by Russian troops.

The man never returned.

Austrian authorities do not even know the name of the child.

He said all troops whose separation dates fall between Dec. 21 and Jan. 6 will be released before Dec. 21.

Falls Census To Help School Status

A United States Census will be taken in Falls Township in order to affect the change of the school district from a fourth to third class category.

A certified census of the district must be submitted to the superintendent of public instruction in Harrisburg, who may then issue his proclamation declaring the district to be of the class to which it properly belongs.

A third class district is one with a population between 5000 and 30,000.

Applications

Applications are now available for enumerators, according to an announcement today from Paul Sterling, Home and School Visitor.

Edwin P. Slabaugh, regional supervisor from the New York office, in a letter to Sterling, listed the following qualifications for applicants:

Enumerators may be either men or women over the age of 21, preferably between 25 an 45. They must be United States citizens.

They should be of good appearance and stand well in the community so that the citizens upon whom they call will be willing to answer their questions.

Enumerators should be physically able to do much walking and climbing of steps, and to carry the necessary census forms and materials. Enumerators in sparsely-settled areas will require automobiles and will be paid seven cents per mile for approved travel.

They must be able to write legibly and to understand and apply the written instructions they will receive from the census supervisor.

Time

Enumerators, who are paid six cents for each properly recorded name, must be willing to work at least eight hours a day, but enumerating is not a 9 to 5 job. Some of the peopleupon whom they call will be absent during the day, hence enumerators must be willing and able to make evening and Saturday calls.

An interviewer will select 25 applicants to conduct the census.

Interested persons can secure application blanks in Sterling's office in the Fallsington Elementary School, Yardley avenue, Fallsington.

Census

Actual census taking will begin after enumerators have been selected.

Falls has been fourth class because its 1950 federal census showed a population of 3,540, but showed a population of 3,540, but by 1953, the unofficial population had reached some 16,000, making the district eligible for a third class status.

In adition to the prestige of most citizens and school officials, the change presents two significant features.

A basic limitation of 25 mills for general operating is retained, but the district is authorized to levy additional property taxes as may be necessary to pay authority rentals and minimum salaries and increments for teachers.

Independent

The other is, the district may operate independently of the county superintendent's office if it so desires.

In the event Falls becomes a third class district, the township will be better represented on the Pennsbury joint board. The present five-member total will be increase to seven.

Plymouth Church Enlists Advisor To Aid Projects

To complete various projects, the Plymouth Congregational Church, Appletree drive and Autumn lane, Levittown, has engaged the services of Curtis R. Schumacher, of New York City.

He is the director of the Department of Church Finance Advisory Service of the Board of Home Missions of the Plymouth Congregational Church.

To Assist

Schumacher will assist the church in directing its project to furnish the Sanctuary, classrooms and church office, landscape the grounds, furnish and equip the kitchen, and reduce the mortgage.

Formerly a banker, Schumacher has, since his association with the Board, worked with many churches in the United States.

He says of the financial project, "In this undertaking, the Plymouth Congregational Church provides its members and friends with one of their most unforgettable privileges.

Power for Good

"The church undoubtedly represents the greatest power for good and hope in this chaotic world. Any church building enterprise increases the ability to spread this good and hope.

"For the average individual, the opportunity to share in such a project occurs but once in a lifetime."

Visitation Day will be this Sunday.

Excise Tax May Continue One Year

WASHINGTON, — UP — A Treasury spokesman said today the administration probably will ask Congress to continue, at least for another year, high excise taxes on cigarettes, beer, and other consumer items. Under present law the levies are scheduled to drop automatically on April 1 and save the taxpayers 850 million dollars to 900 million dollars a year.

Tax Investigation

The administration's tentative plan was given to a House ways and means subcommittee by Dan T. Smith, special assistant to Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey. The subcommittee is investigating the impact of the excise-or sales-taxes on both the public and business and may propose that some sections be overhauled.

While Smith did not say so specifically the world crisis also is expected to require the administration to ask Congress to continue the present 52 per cent tax rate on corporation income over $25,000.

The corporate rate is scheduled to drop to 47 per cent on April 1 at a cost to the Treasury of 2 billion dollars a year.

But plans for higher defense spending in the fiscal year starting July 1 is understood to have persuaded administration and congressional leaders that these cuts must be postponed.

Scheduled Excise Cuts

Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson already has said he anticipates an increase of 2 billion dollars in the defense budget to 38 billion dollars. However, some experts believe Wilson's estimate is too low.

Under the scheduled April 1 reduction the excise on cigarettes would drop one cent a pack, on beer, $1 a barrel, and one automobiles from 10 to seven per cent. Other reductions are scheduled for wine, liquor, and automotive parts and accessories.

Smith said it is too early to give the administration's final decision. He said, "It appears to us now that it will be necessary to ask for an extension.

"The final decision will not be made," he added, "until the President presents his recommendations to Congress."

Defense Secretary Wilson Ponders Cut In Air Force

USW Board Studies Automation Course

PITTSBURGH — UP — Top policy makers of the United Steelworkers meet today to plot the union's answers to automation in the steel industry and a rank-and-file dues protest movement.

International President David J. McDonald takes up the problems with his 31-member executive board in the second session of a two-day meeting called to plan the future of the 1,200,000-member union.

Automation in the industry threatens to cut top mill hands and laborers from the union ranks. The dues protest leaders promise "down-the line" opposition to present union leadership at the USW election next February.

No statement was issued after the opening two-hour meeting yesterday.

But it was understood the delegates charted a drive to enroll in the USW an increasing number of white collar workers now in the steel mills. The board also instructed delegates who are to attend the AFL-CIO White Collar Organizing Conference in Washington, Dec. 13-14.

The problem of machines doing the work of mill hands, now called automation, is an age-old problem to craft unionism and the USW. The dues revolt is something new to the steelworkers union.

Truck, Train Crash Kills 3

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind.— UP — Intense heat and flames prevented removal of three bodies early today from wreckage of a gasoline tank truck and a freight train carrying explosive chemicals and gasoline.

The truck driver and the engineer and fireman of a 65-car Chesapeake & Ohio freight train were trapped and killed in the wreckage when the truck exploded in a ball of flame.

The diesel engine and 10 cars of the train were derailed and burst into flame when the truck rammed the freight late Tuesday at a crossing two miles west of Michigan City.

The dead were train Engineer Roy Powers, 56; Fireman Harold Johnson, 40, both of Grand Rapids, Mich., and Charley Wilson,

Less Than 137-Wing Budget Is Provided

WASHINGTON—UP—Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson today was considering how much to cut the Air Force beneath its 137-wing goal. The decision probably will be his toughest in drafting next year's military budget.

The 137-wing goal was set in 1953 as part of the administration's "new look" military program. The goal, under present plans, was to have been reached next June. The Air Force now, however, is resigned to a cut.

Air Force officials, it was learned, presented to Wilson yesterday a budget for the coming fiscal year that would provide for less than 137 wings. The presentation was made at a budget conference at the Pentagon.

Wilson, at the close of the presentation, was said to have left open the question of whether he will make still further cuts in the Air Force strength goal. He was said to have explained to Air Force officials that he was aware of Air Force needs but also had to consider how big a military establishment the national economy can carry.

The Air Force is spending almost half the tax dollars allotted to the military. How much it gets is a key factor in how large the general defense budget will be, and that in turn, is the key to whether the government's overall budget will balance.

In the current fiscal year, the Air Force will spend $16.5 billion.

U.S. Moves To Heal Split In NATO

WASHINGTON — UP — The United States is studying a secret report which calls for increased political, economic and cultural cooperation among the 15 members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The initial American reaction to the report, which was prepared by the foreign ministers of Canada, Italy and Norway, was said to be highly favorable. Other NATO members also are studying it.

U. S. officials favor increased co-operation among NATO members beyond the military sphere. They see this as one important way of overcoming the unity - shattering effects of the recent British - French action in Egypt. This attack was made without consultation inside NATO.

President Eisenhower yesterday moved to heal the NATO split growing out of the Egyptian action by declaring that differences between the United States, Britain and France over the Middle East should not be regarded as "a weakening or disruption" of the Western Alliance. A White House spokesman said at Augusta, Ga., that Mr. Eisenhower regards NATO as a "basic indispensable element of American defense alliances against the continuing Soviet Communist threat to the peace and security of the world."

Draft Quota For State

HARRISBURG — UP — State Selective Service Headquarters here today set Pennsylvania's draft quota for January at 1,338 men, all to be at least 22 years old.

The quota was slightly less than the 1,413 men called up for military service in the state this month.

PRESLEY LEMONADE

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — UP — Two small children took advantage of sightseers in front of the Elvis Presley home here to set-up a lemodade stand. Their sign read, "Welcome Presley admirers."

Hard Coal Pact Signed

WILKES-BARRE, Pa.— UP — H. W. Bradbury, president of the Lehigh Valley Coal Co., said yesterday that the new wage agreement between the United Mine Workers of America and the anthracite mine operators would be reflected in hard coal price increases before the end of the week.

The one-year-pact, which goes into effect Saturday, calls for a "package" increase of $2.15 daily for mine workers on a seven-hour basis. The contract covers 30,000 anthracite miners, half of whom reside in Luzerne County, Pa.

Although Bradbury said the amount of the price increase was still undetermined, another industry spokesman said the new contract would cost the operators from $12,000,000 to $15,000,000 a year.

The contract provides for daily pay increases of $2 for production workers and $1.50 for others. It also boosted vacation pay from $100 to $140 and added four days to the previous 10-day vacation period.

Education Head Named

AUGUSTA, Ga. — UP — President Eisenhower at his vacation headquarters here announced today the appointment of a new federal commissioner of education, Dr. Lawrence Gridley Derthick of Chattanooga, Tenn.

Derthick received a recess appointment subject to later confirmation by the Senate.

Mr. Eisenhower also selected a new administrative assistant, Jack Z. Anderson, a former Republican member of the House from California. Anderson is being added to the White House staff to aid the President on farm problems.

Police Are Studying Dorsey's 'Real' Note

GREENWICH, Conn. — UP— Police studied today a "highly personal"note written by bandleader Tommy Dorsey to his estranged wife shortly before he choked to death in his sleep.

Police Chief Davis Robbins said last night that Dorsey's business manager had faked a note supposedly written by the 51-year-old musician before he died.

Still Secret

Contents of the note Dorsey actually wrote are still secret.

"The note we found was highly personal in nature," Robbins said. "We can't disclose its contents. It is important to our case."

Robbins said Tino Brazi, Dorsey's manager, had "made up" the note Brazi read to reporters after Dorsey's body was found fully clothed in the locked master bedroom of his $130,000 mansion.

Faked Note

The police chief said Brazi had admitted faking the bandleader's final note "to help take some of the pressure off Mrs. Dorsey."

Robbins refused to assess the possible significance of the true note, but he did say it gave no indication that Dorsey contemplated suicide.

Jail Term Given For Bristol Theft

Theodore W. Junhe, Sr., 108 E. Pearl street, Burlington, this week was sentenced to five to 10 months in Bucks County Prison for the $265 burglary of the Carborundum Co., Green lane, Bristol township, on June 15.

Junne, who was arrested on Oct. 24 on a court bench warrant and put in prison to await trial, pleaded guilty before Judge Edwin H. Satterthwaite.

Junne's bench warrant arrest occurred after he failed to appear in Bucks County Court for a hearing. He was arrested earlier, on June 20, for the Carborundum burglary and was released on bail.

Bristol township police first learned of the burglary on June 18, when William G. Wilkinson, company district office manager, returned from an out-of-state trip.

Wilkinson claimed between $15 and $20 was taken from a "coffee fund" can and that $250 in cash was taken from a box, both of which were in his locked desk.

While questioning employees, police learned that Junne, who was serving as company janitor, "was having money difficulties."

Officer Charles Haines testified that when Junne was picked up and taken to headquarters, he admitted the burglary.

Junne testified he went back to the plant "to check the windows," found one open, and went inside to close it. He said the burglary was a "spur of the moment thing."

Junne said he forced the desk drawer with a screw driver but that he got only a total of $165, which he said he used to pay bills. He said he took the money because he was in debt.

Wilkinson testified that $100 was in the box and that an additional $80.02 was lying next to it. He said an envelope containing $70 was in the drawer and that another $15 to $20 was in the coffee fund can, a total of more than $265.

Judge Satterthwaite ordered Junne to make restitution to the company, with which he had been employed since January, 1953.

Kirby Given Fire Badge At Meeting

Chief Franklin Kirby of the Falls Township Police Department was made an Honorary member of the Levittown Fire Company No. 1 at the organization's November meeting. President Albertus Gilbert presented the company's badge to the Chief.

Prior to the ceremony, Chief Kirby spoke to the members. His topics covered the joint efforts of the Police and Fire Companies in combating fires and emergencies, mutual interests and responsibilities of the community and such service organizations, and the general area of safety. A stimulating question and answer period followed the discussion.

Trustee John Sinton reported that the construction of the new fire house is proceeding nicely and that the anticipated completion date of the first of the year will probably be met.

Chief Charles Hopkins announced that several members will visit the Bruco Company in order to see the progress being made on their new truck.

Nominations of officers took place. The company will hold elections at its December meeting.

Tax Talk Slated In Middletown

Mr. Beary will speak on "The Tax Program and Problems."

Road Program Is Praised

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. —UP —Sen. Edward Martin (R.-Pa.) said the Federal Highway Program, given full cooperation by all participants and kept from political influence, would remake the nation's cities and provide nearly 1,000,000 new jobs once it gets underway.

Martin, in a speech prepared for delivery to the 42nd annual meeting of the American Association of State Highway Officials, hailed the widespread recognition of the value of a modern highway system to the future of the country.

"Into your hands has been committed the greatest public construction program ever proposed in history. It is the largest and costliest project, except for war, ever undertaken by any nation in the world," said Martin.

The senator predicted the highway program would remove one of the great barriers to progress by remarking the nation's cities. He also predicted the program would reduce the death and injury toll on the highways.

He told the delegates one of their most important jobs in regard to the program was public relations in connection with limited access on the Interstate Sys-term. He said it appeared the advantages of limited access were areas.

"In my opinion this is most important because experience with existing limited access highways has demonstrated that accident rates are reduced about two-thirds as compared with roads having unlimited access," he declared.

LAKESIDE LEANINGS
By Janet Whitekettle
2 Locust Lane
WI 6-3216

Congratulations to Joel Morgan, youngest son of Dr. and Mrs. William Morgan, who celebrated his 10th birthday on Nov. 5th. Joel received many lovely gifts and was guest of honor at a family celebration. The Morgan family lives at 1 Locust lane.

Eleven is the magic number for Charles Matlack this year, for he became 11 years of age on Nov. 11. Charles' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Matlack, entertained him at a smorgasbord dinner. Unfortunately Charles' older brother, Ronnie, could not be present for the occasion. He was on duty at the time with his Naval Reserve unit, where he recently completed his boot training. The Matlacks make their home at 68 Lavender lane.

A word of congratulations to Mrs. Ray Ritz, 10 Lavender lane, who did a terrific job as Lakeside chairlady in the door-to-door drive for the United Fund. Not being fortunate enough to round up enough volunteers for the job, Mrs. Ritz canvassed several of Lakeside's lanes herself and helped single-handed to raise our contributions.

The "Welcome Home" sign should be hung out on Locust lane for Bob and Estelle Taylor, who recently returned to their home at No. 15. The Taylors have been living in Lock Haven, Pa., for several months—but a change of position has Mr. Taylor working in this vicinity again.

Other former Locust lane residents are also being seen around town again. Mr. and Mrs. Rollin White are living near Levittown in their handsome new housetrailer since Mr. White's work also brought him back to this state again.

Visiting briefly in Levittown before taking up residence in their new home in Clearwater, Fla., Mr. and Mrs. Louis Spaeth have also been noticed around town these days.

Drunk Driving Costs 2 $500

Two Burlington County men pleaded guilty to drunken driving offenses in Lower Bucks County during criminal court this week and were fined a total of $500 and costs of prosecution.

They were John M. Smith, 222 Penn street, Burlington, fined $200, and Samuel Giancola, Bordentown, fined $300.

Smith was arrested on Route 1, Falls township, on Sept. 27 after he tried to pass a township police car. Police said he weaved over the road but that he was only travelling 20 miles per hour.

Smith said he had two drinks at a company dinner in Trenton and got lost on the way home.

Giancola was also arrested by Falls township police. He was picked up after a chase from Route 1 and Tyburn road to Trenton road. Police said he cut off another car and jumped a divider strip on Tyburn road.

Both were pronounced under the influence of alcohol by Dr. William B. Suter, Fairless Hills.

Dystrophy Drive Ends On Saturday

The "March for Muscular Dystrophy" will complete its 1956 fund-raising efforts this Saturday, it was announced by local campaign headquarters.

Volunteer marchers throughout every neighborhood in this area have been making door-to-door solicitations in a "march on homes" to raise funds. Scientific research continues in this baffling muscle-destroying disease for which no cause or cure is yet known. Muscular dystrophy afflicts approximately 200,000 Americans.

This week marks the only fund-raising effort made during the year by the Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America, Inc.

Proceeds from the drive will be used to allocate the expense of nearly 50 research projects in over 100 leading institutions which conduct research in this and allied muscular diseases.

Forum Plans Arab Speaker

"What do the Arab nations think of the U. S. stand on the Mideast situation? How are the Arab nations reacting to British, French, and Israeli action in the Suez?"

These and many other questions will be pondered by those attending the second World Affairs Forum series on the Middle East, Dec. 4, at 8:30 p.m. at the William Penn Center.

A spokesman for the Arab nations, Dr. Fayez A. Seyegh will speak on "The Arab Point of View."

The World Affairs Forum committee has planned this series on the Middle East to better inform people on the issues involved. The committee has endeavored to present all sides of the question equally and hopes to close the series with a third speaker of some prominence from the secretariate of the United Natiors.

This series on the Mideast situation has already heard from Cecil Hayman, Consul General for Israel in New York in a talk on "Why Israel?". The public is invited to all Forum meetings and there is a 50 cent donation.

TALE OF MICHAEL

NEW HAVEN, Conn. — UP — Mickey Mouse apparently had an ancestor. Yale University has discovered an 18th century English manuscript entitled: "Mr. Michael Mouse Unfolds His Tale."

DON'T APPEAL

HARTFORD, Conn. UP — Peter White, 20, of East Hartford was fined $18 for speeding. He appealed to Common Pleas Court where the fine was raised to $38.

Evergreens Real Green

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — UP — The Kansas City park department has hit upon an idea for keeping some of its dead evergreen trees looking green.

The trees in question were transplanted this spring on a black square park that covers the three-floor undergound Municipal Auditorium parking lot in downtown Kansas City.

Four of the trees—native red cedars—died in the transplanting process. They couldn't be replaced until late this fall.

So Eugene Nelson, 64, the groundkeeper, hit upon the idea of spraying the dead trees with green paint. So well has the process worked that Nelson said:

"I defy you to tell the painted trees from the others unless you get real nosey and start fingering the leaves."

Helicopters To Lift Bulk Items

PHILADELPHIA — UP — A "flying crane" helicopter, capable of lifting large bulk items or critical supplies in problem terrain areas, is being designed at the Piasecki Aircraft Corp.

The company said it received a contract from the U.S. Army Research and Redevelopment Command to evolve advanced designs for giant helicopters capable of lifting up to 16 tons in ranges up to 100 miles in sub-zero and desert temperatures.

Meat Produce Steadily Rises

CHICAGO — UP — The production of all meats jumped from 21,900,000,000 pounds in 1951 to almost 27,000,000,000 last year, according to the National Live Stock and Meat Board.

Output this year probably will hit 27.7 billion pounds, with the increase divided equally between beef and pork and with veal and lamb remaining at 1955 levels.

In the early 192's meat animals provided 24 per cent of all cash receipts from farming, the board said. In recent years they have accounted for almost 30 per cent.

The board attributed the increase in part to strong consumer demand for meat, stemming from high employment and high income.

Weekend At Pocono Resort Is Grand Prize For Dance

Holiday Ball To Take Place Dec. 8

The Inn at Buck Hill Falls—a-year-round Pocono Mountain resort offering golfing, riding, swimming, winter sports and excellent accommodations—has offered an all-expense weekend for two as a grand prize at the fourth annual Holiday Ball of the Federated Women's Club of Levittown.

Members of the club and their friends will welcome in the holiday season on December 8th at the Langhorne Country Club, scene of this year's dance. Mrs. Robert B. Crawford, 27 Ironwood Lane, Chairman of the dance, stated that members of her committee are working very hard to make this affair a very gala one, as the ball will benefit the Levittown Public Library, this year's club project. At their last general meeting, Mr. Charles Fink, President of the Library Council, extended his appreciation to the club members for their aid to the library - both financial and physical. He displayed a model of the proposed new building to be erected at the Mill-Creek and Levittown - Parkway intersection and spoke of the Library Council's plans regarding the new building and of the need for volunteer workers at the Library.

Music for the affair will be furnished by Warren C. Nutt and his orchestra, whose talents extend to both "rock-and-roll" and "society" music. Mrs. Vaughn Wagnon, 122 Stonybrook Drive, and Mrs. Howard E. Lapp, 7 Spring Lane, are in charge of program arrangements.

Mrs. Thomas J. Azierlein, 43 Shelter Lane, will assist Mrs. Crawford as Co-Chairman of the Ball.

Deadline for ticket reservations has been set at December 1st and reservations are now being taken by Mrs. Fred Coleman, 48 Red rose Drive, WIndsor 6-9202; Mrs. James L. Betz, 26 Good Lane, WIndsor 6-7297; and Mrs. Charles Smith, 1 Mallow Lane, WIndsor 6-8478. Tickets are now available at $4.50 per couple.

Mrs. Joseph J. Sulli, 48 Island Road, will handle publicity for the dance; and Mrs. Clifford Hall, 61 Mallow Lane and Mrs. William J. Willis, 10 Swan Lane, are in charge of decorations. Mrs. Robert Kachel, 6 Good Lane, is secretary - treasurer for the committee.

The Home Department of the Club viewed a demonstration of the new "bouffant" hair style at their last Department meeting at the home of Mrs. George Mills, 2 Sugarmaple Lane, Wednesday evening, November 21st.

Mr. Pat of the Thornridge Beauty Shop was guest of the Department and he sopke to the members regarding their hair styles and demonstrated the new "bouffant look." He showed several variations of the hair style and stated that there was a bouffant for everyone and predicted that it would be as popular among the ladies as the Italian look of a few seasons ago. Mrs. Robert Kachell acted as a model for the hair styling.

Among the guests present were Mrs. Eddy Fayle, Chairman of the Home Department, Mrs. Mills, Mrs. Howard Lapp, Mrs. Robert Kachel, Mrs. George Hoagland, and Mrs. William D. Price.

The third membership tea of the current club year will be held at the home of Mrs. George Hoagland, 56 Lavender Lane, at 8:30 p.m., Thursday, November 29th. Mrs. John A. Tomlinson, Club President, and Mrs. Gene Cipolloni, First Vice President, will speak to prospective club members about the departments of the club and their functions and outline the purpose of the club and its projects.

Mrs. Hoagland, Membership Chairman, stated that any Levittown woman interested in learning about the club or joining the group will be most welcome, and asks that they contact her at WIndsor 6-3139.

Travel Club To Hear Speakers

Mr. Louis Paulier, of the William Penn Center, Fallsington, and Mr. Oscar E. Norbeck, YMCA secretary, will speak on Youth Conservation at the regular meeting of the Bristol Travel Club Friday at the club home at 2 p.m.

Mr. Norbeck will discuss the programs planned for teenagers to help them and their parents solve their problems. In his talk, Mr. Paulmeier, will comment on the same topic with relation to the six to 12 year old group.

Mrs. Ernest Lawrence, Jr., president, will preside during the business session. Mrs. William T. Winslow and Mrs. L. M. Worthington will be hostesses.

An executive board meeting will take place in the club home Friday at 1:15 p.m.

Watch Your Diet For Beauty Sake

When you're on a diet, the calorie count for the whole day is what counts. So, if you know you're going out to dinner, limit the high-calorie foods you eat at luncheon. Far better to do this than pass up the mashed potatoes at dinner with the explanation that you're on a diet. A diet is an excellent thing when needed but few people like to hear about it.

The thoughtful thing for you, as a hostess, to do is to look out for the beauty needs of your overnight guest. In the guest room, see that there are small sizes of cleansing and overnight cream, cleansing tissues, face powder, lipstick and hand lotion as well as aspirin, needles and thread, buttons and both straight and safety pins. If you buy small tubes and boxes at the five-and-ten-cent store, the whole supply need not cost you much. Things like face powder, tooth brushes and cream can be replaced for each guest.

Electoral College Has Yardley Man

Charles F. Metz, Jr., Dolington road, Yardley, will be among 32 Republican members of the Electoral College to meet Dec. 17 at Harrisburg to cast Pennsylvania's official vote for Eisenhower and Nixon.

In separate elections, the electors will write the names of Dwight Eisenhower and Richard Nixon on engraved ballots recording the state's 32 electoral votes.

Electors are under no legal obligation to vote for Eisenhower but moral pledges and custom bind them to cast their ballots according to the popular election which gave Eisenhower and Nixon about 500,000 more votes in the state than the Stevenson-Kefauver ticket.

The electors will be guests of Gov. George M. Leader at the Executive Mansion and proceed at noon to the Senate chamber for the solemn ceremony.

Electors are paid $3 for the day and a mileage allowance of three cents a mile to the capitol.

Morrisville Legion Has 3 Tag Days

Morrisville's American Legion Post will go all out to make this year's tag days, (tomorrow, Friday, and Saturday,) the biggest in the eight year history of the drive, Post Commander Robert Farkas said today.

The Sanford Dietto Legion Post 433 will kickoff the drive for funds Thursday with the aid of Morrisville grade school children. A cash prize will be offered to the most successful student in the fund-raising drive.

Three Parties

Commander Farkas said that the money collected in the Legion campaign will be used for three separate veterans parties.

One is scheduled at the Scotland School in Chambersburg, Pa. This institution is for orphans of veterans. A Christmas party and presents to the children will be paid for by tag day donations.

Veteran's hospitals in the 9th district, which includes Bucks and Montgomery counties, will profit from the tag day collections.

Third Party

The third group is Valley Forge Veteran's hospital. Here, members of the post will throw a party and present gifts to the patients.

The Legion members, the Auxiliary, and school children throughout the borough will participate in the campaign. Members will be spotted in various sections of Morrisville to sell the tags.

Cub Pack 85 Holds Skit Night

All five dens of Cub Scout Pack 85 of the Church of the Incarnation in Morrisville will take part in a skit night tonight at the pack meeting.

A sixth den is being formed by the pack due to the growth of the Cub Scout group. Mrs. Charles Cook and Mrs. Leon McCoy will be the den mothers.

Lions Members Plan 'Fun' Night

The Lions Club of Morrisville will participate in a "Fun and Fellowship Night" at its regular meeting Thursday at 7 0'clock.

Club secretary Anthony Burton announced that the meeting will take place at the Penn Tavern at Bridge street in Morrisville.

Knights To Hold Children's Party

Morrisville Knight's of Columbus will play Santa Claus to 200 children at a mammoth Christmas party Dec. 23 at the Holy Trinity Rectory in Morrisville.

Ice cream, cake, and all the assorted goodies of the holiday will be offered to the children along with a special group of Christmas movies.

Rainbow Girls Receive Charter

The Council of Rainbow Girls of Morrisville will receive its charter at a meeting tonight at the First Presbyterian Church Fellowship Hall at 7:30.

Mrs. Martha B. Heacock, subdeputy of District 7B, and Miss Nancy Buchanan, grand worthy advisor of the Rainbow Girls of Pennsylvania, will officiate.

LBC Stamp Club Slates Meeting

The Lower Bucks County Stamp Club will meet at the home of Francis Griesser, 4616 Grandview avenue, Belmont Hills, Bensalem Township, at 7:30 p.m. tonight.

Milton Nachman of 280 Magnolia Drive, Levittown, will exhibit his collection of one-cent United States stamps. Adult collectors are invited to attend.

Yardley Has Problems Of New Road

Yardley's ballooning highway problems seem to be going from bad to worse, T. Sidney Cadwallader of the Yardley Businessmen's Association indicated today.

"We are strongly opposed to the state's location of the Route 13 extension and we also think the proposed location for the new Yardley Bridge is ridiculous.

Troubles

"The location the state has offered for the new bridge would eliminate the Yardley library and the Yardley homestead, which is of strong historical value in the area.

"It also would pass through a small lake here. We think that would be silly. Can you imagine a highway with water on both sides?"

Mr. Cadwallader said that state engineers have been in the area surveying the location of the new bridge.

Needed

It was emphasized that the need for the new Route 13 extension as well as the Yardley bridge are certainly essential to the area.

"We only hope the state can come up with a sensible place to locate the extension and the bridge," he said.

State Police Seek Benefit

A representative of the state borough association, Julian Barnard, told members of the Morrisville borough association last night that police officers throughout the state are driving for a 55-year-old retirement age and mandatory pension plans for all forces regardless of size.

The present retirement age for borough policemen is 60. By virtue of a law enacted last summer, pension plans have been established in all boroughs with more than eight officers.

Morrisville's present law calls for a pension plan, with 60 as the retirement age, and an insurance policy along with other benefits.

A pension plan has been in existence in Morrisville for some time but additions were made to it after the new bill.

Mr. Barnard also told the group the borough association will be reorganized at the next meeting. The group is after a full time executive secretary with offices in Harrisburg.

The convention will meet in June at the Benjamin Franklin Hotel in Philadelphia.

Installation Set In Morrisville

New circle leaders will be installed Dec. 6 by the Woman's Association of First Presbyterian Church, Morrisville at Fellowship Hall.

The evening will feature a special program of Christmas music. The Rev. Clifford G. Pollack, pastor, will address the group.

"Look at Those Muscles!"

Two tiny tots of the Lower Makefield Elementary school gaze in awe at the large shoulders of footballer-to be Fred Fink. The students are preping for an elementary music festival at the Makefield auditorium called "Yardley Shines Tonight." The young cheerleaders are third graders Jeanne Jaramoska and Mary Hogeland. All-America '66 is fifth grader Fred Fink.

Syria Moves Irritate U.S.

WASHINGTON — UP — The United States has expressed its displeasure over a number of pro-Russian moves taken by the Syrian government, officials said today.

The most recent complaint was registered during the Hungarian revolt when Syria censored all mention of the dramatic uprising from the U.S. information bulletin distributed in Syria. American diplomats in Damascus told the Syrian government such action was uncalled for.

Although it has been unable to do anything more than complain orally, the United States has become increasingly concerned about such pro-Soviet moves as these made by Syria:

Buying Russian arms, recognizing Red China, relying almost entirely on the Russian news agency Tass for outside news and the censoring of the U.S. information bulletin.

Church Slates Gospel Talk

Guest speaker Sunday at 11 a.m. at the First Baptist Church of Morrisville will be the Rev. David Krehbiel, Deputation Representative for the Gospel Furtherance Society in the United States.

The Gospel Furtherance Society places its missionary pastors in displaced person and refugee camps. One of its principal ministries is among German refugees and Slavic DP's who have come from behind the Iron Curtain.

The public is invited to attend the session Sunday. Literature regarding the ministry will be available.

VA Contact

The Contact Officer of the Philadelphia Regional Office announces that a contact representative of this office will be in the Levittown Post Office Dec. 5 and 19 from 1 to 4 p.m. to provide information concerning all VA benefits.

Morrisville Council Meets On Sewers

Morrisville's borough council will meet in special session tonight to discuss the possibility of certain business and commercial establishments tying into the borough sewer line.

Most of these businesses are now dumping waste into cesspools.

"We want to attack this problem before it becomes a health hazard," borough secretary Bob Steward said today.

"This is an open meeting and any interested citizen may attend. We definitely expect representatives of the health department to attend the meeting and offer their views.

Mr. Steward said that 1133 of 2400 possible connections have been made in the borough sewer line.

"One of the factors that has held up much of the area being tied into the main line is the high cost of plumbing installation.

"If we could lick that we could be moving a lot faster on this project," Mr. Steward said.

The meeting will take place tonight at 8:30 at the borough hall in Morrisville.

Morrisville Club To Honor Curtin

Morrisville Rotary Club will honor a former member, congressman-elect Willard Curtin, at a Ladies Night Thursday at the Pennsbury Inn.

James H. Wood, club secretary, said that most of the business of the meeting will be dispensed with to allow for a social program. Professional entertainer will be on hand.

Harry Simpson, past director-general of Rotary, will preside at the meeting.

Toads are found everywhere in the world except Australia and Madgascar, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Cinderella never had it so good!

If a man wants to make the lady of his heart feel loved and cherished beyond all other women, there's nothing that will do it like the new 1957 Chrysler

The man who owns a Chrysler has always expected—and got—the world's finest engineering and a standard of quality he could be proud of. This year, in a motor car with the mightiest chassis, engine, transmission, brakes and steering, he gets more of this Chrysler excellence than ever before.

But he gets something else in addition. He gets the rapturous approval of the lady of his heart. For the 1957 Chrysler simply wraps a lady in admiration . . . and she knows it at once. The new interiors, in soft, flattering color combinations sparkle with beauty. Every luxury her heart can desire is there . . . including the matchless convenience of pushbutton driving, the floating relaxation of the Torsion-Aire Ride, the powerful sureness of Total-Contact brakes.

Yes, this year, the lady who is seen in the world's most modern motor car will be a particularly happy lady. Because she will know that she never looked or felt as good in anything before!

One Of The 'Horsemen'

Football coaches today complain that their players do not have "the legs" the gridders had years ago.

"Don't blame the automobile," Harry Stuhldreher advised the Lower Bucks County coaches, who, with their assistants and captains, were guests at the Fairless Works Management Club's Sports Night last evening. "Find some activity to compensate for the automobile, which is here to stay," he added.

Stuhldreher, the quarterback of Notre Dame's famed Four Horsemen of 1924, told the group that he was familiar with Bucks County. He coached at Villanova University for 11 years before moving on to the University of Wisconsin.

"When I was at Villanova, I kept an eye on all the high schools in the area," Stuhldreher said. "I remember Bristol and Morrisville but these other schools are all new to me."

Stuhldreher hails from Massillon, Ohio, which has always been famous for its football products. He moved from Villanova to Wisconsin in 1936 and stayed there until 1950 when he joined the United States Steel company.

One of Stuhldreher's sons (he has four) recently played football with a service team. He called after his first game and said, "We had some tough luck dad. We lost, 74-0."

A few weeks later Stuhldreher asked his son, "How are you going to do this week?"

"I don't know, dad. The coach won't tell us who we're playing."

Stuhldreher grinned and added, "I wish I had thought of that strategy while I was still coaching."

"Back in Massillon when a boy got into trouble he was warned that if he didn't straighten out, he'd 'end up in the mill' ", Harry explained. Looking out at the Management Club (National Tube Division) members, he cracked, "I don't know what you fellows did but I see you're all working in the mill now."

Stuhldreher praised Paul Hornung of Notre Dame and Johnny Majors of Tennessee. Discussing Hornung, he said he wasn't surprised that he was the first college player to be drafted. "A good quarterback doesn't make the team. A good team makes the quarterback."

Stuhldreher stressed to the group assembled at the Millgate Restaurant in Morrisville that "team play, learned in football, better prepares the individual for industry, business or any praofession."

Management Club's Sports Night

Harry Stuhldreher, right, guest speaker at the Fairless Works Management Club's Sports Night banquet last night, congratulates Pennsbury High School's Joe Griesbaum, who received an honorable mention rating on the United Press All-State football team. Looking on are Sydney Lynn, left, program chairman, and Warren Williams, club president. (Courier and Times sports photo.)

Navy Favored By 2½ Pts. Over Army In Classic Tilt

By UNITED PRESS

If you're a Navy rooter and plan to bet with your fellow-worker on Saturday's Army - Navy football game, be prepared to spot him a 2½ point advantage.

That's the official "spread" favoring the Middies in their annual head - knocking with the Cadets Saturday at Philadelphia, which usually attracts almost as many friendly wagers as a Kentucky Derby or a World Series.

Navy rated its slight edge because of a superior record this year. The Middies have won six games, while losing to Tulane and tying Duke. Army has won five and lost to Michigan, Syracuse and Pittsburgh.

The "wizards of odds" also anticipate a close game when Boston College and Holy Cross meet in another renewal of their ancient rivalry at Boston. This contest was rated a toss-up, although BC has won five of eight games, while Holy Cross has a 4-3-1 mark.

Most of the other favorites in this weekend's traditional season-ending games were picked to win by at least one touchdown.

Missouri is a 6½ point choice to make Coach Don Faurot's finale a winning one against Kansas while Miami is picked by the same spread to defeat Florida in their Sunshine State classic.

Among the bowl hopefuls, Tennessee is picked by 13½ points over Vanderbilt, Baylor is 12 over Rice, Mississippi is nine over Mississippi State, and Georgia Tech is 15 over Georgia.

Texas Christian, which already has earned a berth in the Cotton Bowl, is a heavy 13-point favorite over Southern Methodist, while Auburn is rated 7½ over Alabama, and Tulane is seven over Louisiana State.

Nobre Dame will close out its worse season in 23 years as a 13-point underdog against Southern California. Oklahoma, heading for the national championship, is such a top-heavy favorite to beat Oklahoma A&M that no odds were quoted on this game.

In Thursday's Southwest Conference game, Texas A&M is expected to defeat Texas by at least 14½ points. It marked the first time in the long history of this series that the Longhorns were underdogs on their home campus.

Bnsalem High Teachers Win

Assistant football coach Danny Roskos and track coach Bob Parsons paced the Bensalem High School Men's Faculty to a 3-0 victory over the varsity Owlettes yesterday in a hockey match.

Roskos pounded in two goals and Parsons added a sizzling blast to upset the favored girls varsity. It was the first triumph for the men in three years. The first two contests ended in 2-2 ties.

Playing for the men's faculty were Zippy Zimmerman, Bob Parsons, Charles Benshetler, Tom and Bob Waters, Manuel Alves, Bob Mancia, Roskos, Bud Dominic and two girls varsity players, Bonnie Erwin and Mary Leighton.

Varsity girls who saw action included Plunkett, Rektenwald, Toby Brodisch, Marjorie Hughes, Yeager, Clara Dawidczyk, Irene Brodisch, Waters, Bender, Eggert, Villius, Vickers, Hodgens, Mjaland, Demura, Festa, Mudie, Peggy Harper Eileen Hughes, Joan Trommer, Tomlinson and Shafer.

Russians Dominate For First Time In Olympic Contests

Venezuela, producer of 2,000,000 barrels of oil a day, exports more petroleum than any other nation.

In Johnny Kucks' only World Series start he blanked the Dodgers, 9-0, winning the 1956 Series for the Yankees.

Four Gold Medals Won By Soviets To Two For Yanks

MELBOURNE—UP—Russia won four gold medals in the Olympics today and outshone the United States for the first time since the start of the 1956 games.

Vladimir Kuts, a hardy, 29-year-old Ukrainian naval officer, became the second double winner this year when he won the 5,000-meter run in record time. He won the 10,000-meter event last Friday. The Soviets also won the 20-kilometer walking race, the women's javelin throw and the team championship in the modern pentathlon.

Hurdler Lee Calhoun of Gary, Ind., and shotputter Parry O'Brien of Santa Monica, Calif., provided the United States with two more gold medals, swelling the America total to 18. Both Calhoun and O'Brien set new Olympic records in their specialties.

The Soviets' biggest day thus far garnered them a total of 64 points, which bit slightly into the U. S. lead in the unofficial team standings. The U. S. which scored 44 points in today's events, led the Russians in the team race, 306 points to 214, after five full days of competition.

School Teacher Tops

A Swedish school teacher won one of the severest tests of stamina and versatility on the Olympic program. Lars Hall became the first man ever to make a successful defense of his modern pentathlon crown, which comprises five events.

This was Kuts' day, however, as he beat the world's best distance runners in the 5,000-meter run with an Olympic record clocking of 13 minutes, 39.6 seconds. He thus bettered the old Olympic mark of 14:06 set by Czechoslovakia's Emil Zatopek, who was a triple winner in the 1952 games.

Kuts, a tireless running machine, relinquished the lead only momentarily early in the race. He won by 80 yards over Gordon Pirie of England. Derek Ibbotson of England was third. Kuts still had enough strength left to jog an extra lap around the track after the finish.

U.S. Sweeps Hurdles

Calhoun came home first in the 110-meter high hurdles at the head of a U.S. sweep of the first three places. He ran the event in an Olympic record 13.5 seconds, barely beating Jack Davis of Glendale, Calif., in a photo finish. Davis, also a second-place finisher in this event in 1952, was clocked in the same time and both will receive credit for a new Olympic mark. Joel Shankle of Durham, N.C., was third.

O'Brien, the world record-holder in the shot put, and Bill Nieder of Lawrence, Kan., finished 1-2 in their specialty, but U.S. hopes for a sweep of the three medals was upset when Ken Bantum of New York could finish only fourth. O'Brien's toss of 60 feet, 11 inches broke his own Olympic standard.

The Russians' two other gold medals were won by Leonid Spirine in the 20-kilometer (12.4 miles) walk and by Inessa Iaounzem in the women's javelin throw. Both set new Olympic records. Spirine led a 1-2-3 Russian finish with a clocking of one hour, 31 minutes and 27 seconds. Mlle. Iaounzem threw the javelin 176 feet, eight inches.

Aussie Wins Gold Medal

The best American placings in these two Russian specialties were 12th in the walk by Henry Laskau of New York and eighth in the women's javelin by Karen Anderson, Lansdowne, Pa.

The day's other gold medal was won by Shirley Strickland de La Hunty of Australia in the women's 80-meter hurdles with an Olympic record clocking of 10.7 seconds.

In the pentathlon, which concluded with a 4,000-meter cross-country run today, George Lambert of Sioux City, Iowa, earned the U.S. two points by placing fifth in the individual standings. The United States also added five points by finishing second to the Soviets in the overall team standings.

Two U.S. runners qualified for 400-meter run semi-finals, but a third was eliminated. Lou Jones of New Rochelle, N.Y., and Charlie Jenkins of Cambridge, Mass., made the grade, but Jim Lea of San Jose, who became sick before the race, failed to qualify.

Sun Reporter Does Top Story

NEW YORK — UP — Snowden Carter of the Baltimore Sun has won the Thoroughbred Racing Association's 1956 award for the best racing news story of 1956.

Carter's winning story was based on an account of the varied reactions at the barn of Kentucky Derby winner Needles.

Robinson Nears Top Condition

GREENWOOD LAKE, N.Y.,—UP— Ray Sugar Robinson, rapidly rounding into shape for his middleweight title defense against Gene Fullmer on Dec. 12, scaled 165 pounds today, only five over the limit.

He worked four rounds yesterday.

Feasterville '11' Plays Sunday

Once-beaten Feasterville Athletic Association will wind up its 1956 independent football season with a battle with the Wissonoming Wildcats on Sunday afternoon. The game will be played on the Kopper Kettle field on Bridgetown Pike and Bristol road, starting at 2 p.m.

Coach Bob Quider and his Feasterville Falcons have come a long way since an opening day defeat to the Philadelphia Cobras, 28-0. The Falcons have recorded seven consecutive victories and are seeking to end the campaign with only one defeat.

Quider said, "The Wildcats are a real tough team and will be hard to beat." Feasterville defeated the Venango Bears, 13-7, in a thriller a few weeks ago. During the regular season Venango and the Wildcats battled to a 7-7 deadlock.

Ranger Center Out For Month

NEW YORK—UP— New York Ranger center George "Red" Sullivan, who is suffering from contusions of the spleen, will be lost to the team for about a month.

Sullivan, the team's leading scorer, was injured in Sunday night's game with the Montreal Canadiens.

DEFEAT

MELBOURNE — UP — The United States, which seems to be winning almost everything else, finally met its master today in field hockey.

It lost a 16-0 decision to India. It was the worst defeat suffered by any team in the Olympic field hockey competition.

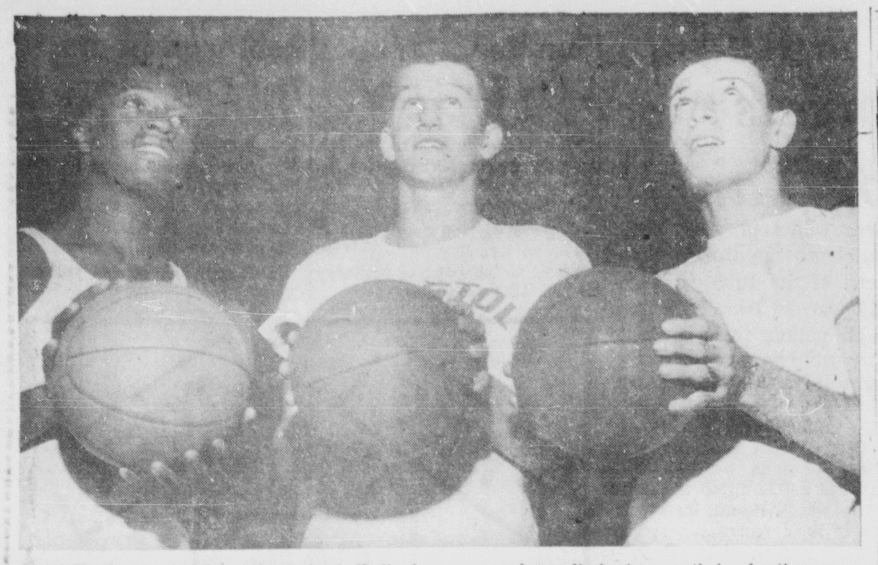
Bristol Five Prepares To Defend District One Title



Bristol's three returning veteran basketball players are shown limbering up their shooting eyes in a practice session. This trio is expected to be the nucleus for the 1956 Warriors who are the defending Lower Bucks County League and District One basketball champions. Players shown from left are Al Van Wright, John Sabol and Bob Liberatore. All three are seniors.

Liberatore, Van Wright, Sabol Back This Season

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first of a series of articles on the prospects of the Lower Bucks County High School basketball teams.)

By TOM JUNO
Courier and Times Sports Writer

"Gee, it's really too early to say. We haven't had a scrimmage yet but I'll tell you this, if a couple players pan out we'll be real tough—we have a good nucleus."

Those were the words of Bristol's coach Anthony "Chick" D'Angelo when asked about his prospects for the forthcoming season. D'Angelo's 1955-56 team climbed the highest of any team in the history of Lower Bucks as it won the Class B District One championship.

Yesterday was the first time that coach D'Angelo had his full squad for practice as although he has developed many good players, he just can't blend the football season with basketball and must wait until all players shed their gridiron togs to hold justified cage practice drills.

Even though he lost seven of his last season's team by graduation and ineligibility, D'Angelo isn't moaning (Who should with Bobby Liberatore returning?). These are the boys whose shoes will have to be filled and filled fast with the opening game only a little over a week away and scrimmages due early next week with Ewing and Trenton High.

Three of the lettermen lost were of the starting five, including: Teddy Kowal, the sharp shooting set-shot artist; Lanky Jim VanWright, the tallest player of the championship team; and Gene Ferry, hard-working guard and play-maker.

Also gone are Bobby Trasatti, the sixth man of the championship aggregation, Johnny Lewis,

CHICK D'ANGELO

Don Leyden, Dom Oriolo and Tommy Corrigan.

The returnees are Liberatore, Al VanWright and Johnny Sabol. Liberatore, leading scorer of Lower Bucks, is the tallest in this season's contingent as he towers 6-2. Sabol is 6-1 and VanWright, 5-11. The trio are seniors.

Moving up from last year's Jayvees are Harold Saxton, Bobby Sembrot, Johnny DiNunzio and Joe Larrissey, all seniors except DiNunzio who is a junior.

Others who are about certain to be carried on the varsity squad are sophomores Freddie Williamson and Bubba Johnson, junior Tony Angelaccio and senior Walt Binkley. Of the group, only Johnson is a six-footer. Saxton and Sembrot go about 5-6 with the rest dallying between 5-8 and 5-10.

The team will have to really go some to equal last season's record of 23 wins and one loss. The team won all its pre-league games and then swept through the Lower Bucks loop without a loss. It then went into the district playoffs to win the crown by beating Conshohocken, Hatboro and Swarthmore. It lost in the regional playoffs to Fountain Hill, bowing in the second half after putting up a great first half battle.

The Warriors will play five games before the holiday season, playing Mt. Holly twice, Bordentown, Burlington and Jenkintown's Drakes, the Class C champions. Jenkintown is a new school on the local's schedule. Bristol opens at home on Dec. 7 against Mt. Holly.

Bristol has also entered the Hatfield Lions Holiday Tournament and plays its first game on December 26, meeting O. J. Roberts High School. Other schools in the tourney are Bridgeport, Pennridge, North Penn, Pottstown, West Chester and Schwenksville. The games will be played on the North Penn High School floor at Lansdale. If a team wins its first game it is in the tournament until the end.

Tomorrow: Bensalem.

Pro Running Title Closes

PHILADELPHIA — UP — Chicago Bear Rick Casares' season - long stature as the best ball carrier in the National Football League was under threat for the first time today and cross - town rival Ollie Matson of the Chicago Cardinals is responsible.

Casares has been setting the pace from the start but Matson drew within 26 points of him by rolling up 159 yards against the Pittsburgh Steelers last Sunday. Casares, meanwhile, was being held to 13 by the New York Giants.

Casares now has chewed up 774 yards on 178 carries for 4.3 average. Matson has gained 748 on 145 rushes for a 5.2 figure.

Eddie Brown of the Bears continued to monopolize the league's passing department. Brown has thrown 124 passes, completed 78 for 1,400 yards and 10 touchdowns.

Billy Wilson, San Francisco, broke a three-way tie among the receivers by catching seven passes last week to bring his total to 4[illegible] more than Harlon Hill of the Bears, who also caught seven. Billy Howton of Green Bay is third with 39.

Casares was ousted as the leading scorer by Bobby Layne of the Detroit Lions, who boasts 78 points to ripping Dick's 72.

Norm Van Brocklin, Los Angeles, held on to the best punter laurels he grabbed the previous week. He has a 43.8 average, compared to 43.1 for Dick Deschaine of Green Bay.

Mark Twain Plus One

DETROIT — UP — The J. D. Beemers, the Jerry Sweitzers and the Jack Ivorys spent a pleasant evening together discussing something the three couples had in common—all of the wives were expecting.

"If it's a boy we're going to call him Mark," said Gloria Beemer.

"Why, that's the name we've picked for our son," Mary Jane Sweitzer said.

And Irene Ivory added: "That's the name we've picked."

All three babies were boys. And all three are named Mark.

Banquet Circuit Is Home For Donald

NEW YORK — UP — Peter Donald, who has a tuxedo and will travel, stacks up as TV's foremost authority on banquet buzzard, an oily bird that catches the unwary.

The handy-haired emcee of TV's "Masquerade Party" has officiated over 15 years in the ceremonial dinner league, a nationwide circuit that features such hazards as chicken a la clink, elastic peas, and an audience that ranges from jumpy to juiced.

"I'm down to about 75 banquets a year now," said Donald today, "but not so long ago I was doing about 200 a year —trouble with that is, you just shoot your fees in the doctor's office.

"Boy, I'll tell you one thing about this banquet business —you either get 'em in the first 30 seconds or they break you. Fortunately, I've developed a kind of sixth sense by now of sizing up the situation."

Ice Cube Tossers

It wasn't always that way though. "I remember my first after-dinner speech," said Donald. "My agent told me I was going to speak before a group of dignified gentlemen —executives of the highest type.

"It turned out they were 800 of the most drunken gentlemen I'd ever seen in my life. There they sat, throwing ice cubes at each other. I just gulped and laid a bomb.

"But you know, 10 years later I faced the same group and had no trouble. I started out by saying—'the first time I spoke before you I thought you were the drunkenest, rudest gang I'd ever faced. And now 10 years later, I still think so.' They laughed and I had 'em from there on in."

Donald, who has spoken before groups as small as 25 at a country club to a mob of 15,000 in Atlantic City, is one of a handful of specialists who earn tasty money from the dinner loop. Some of the other pros include Harry Hirshfield, Walter Kiernan, Bill Thompson, and Georgie Jessel, who is reported to start speaking whenever he sights breadcrumbs.

Different Techniques

"We all have different techniques, but essentially it all boils down to one thing—laughter. It's the common denominator whether you're speaking to specialists in eyeballs or aerial navigation."

Donald has had only two really gruesome experiences since his debut. "One was at an auto dealers convention where they unveiled their new car for the year. It was a dog," said Donald, "and under that pall I made my entrance.

"The other was just a few weeks ago when the toastmaster mumbled my name and said, 'and now, he'll tell you funny stories.' What can you do in a situation like that?"

But the worst hurdle is the chicken. "I rarely touch it," said Donald, "That chicken tetrachloride can get you after a while. Trouble is, if you don't eat it, they seem to fly it in to the next town just ahead of you—and there it waits, older and a little colder."

Newtown Post Plans Party

Twenty-eight members attended the November 20 meeting of the Morell Smith Post, 440 American Legion, Newtown. Commander Richard Tomlinson was the presiding officer.

Tentative plans were discussed for a "Holiday" party to be held in January. David J. Balderston was appointed chairman of the planning committee.

Plans are also underway for the purchase of an American flag which the post will present to the Newtown Joint Elementary school. Heading this project is Robert H. Kenderdine.

Announcement was made that the regrading and seeding of the Council Rock Little League field has been completed and the bill ordered paid. This work was done by the Newtown post in appreciation of the excellent job done last year by the players, their managers, umpires and officers.

It was reported that dues have been increased from $4 to $4.25.

B-r-r-r.

I still shiver when I think of those winter mornings. Up at the crack of dawn a gang of us trade school instructors would drive over hill and dale to Penn State in order to be on time for early teacher-training classes. To add to the inconvenience they were usually scheduled for Saturday, the one day in the wek when we school folks tried to enjoy a change of scenery. Not to speak of catching up on a flock of household chores which had piled up.

Well, I must admit that these weekly 100-mile trips weren't entirely in the cold category of professional improvement. Most vocational school teachers have worked for a living at their trades, as you may know, and are a pretty regular bunch of guys. So, we had some good times together to brighten up the business at hand.

Just the same I only wish that we had had some setup for further study as convenient as the one recently made available for the elementary school teachers in Feasterville. You probably read in Monday's Bristol Courier and Levittown Times about the new research library which has been opened in the Poquessing Elementary School to make the latest educational books and instructional devices easily available to teachers of primary grades in Feasterville and vicinity.

According to George McClatchy, the school supervisor, this new research library for elementary teachers at the Poquessing Elementary School is one of the very few libraries of this type in Pennsylvania. It happens to be the first such library I have heard about, which leads me to believe these libraries probably aren't too plentiful in the United States.

Congratulations are certainly due to everyone responsible for introducing this new and far-sighted educational project into our Bucks County schools. Mr. McClatchy received full co-operation and assistance in developing this trail-blazing project from Mrs. Garrett Morrell of Langhorne; Lew Williams, Neshaminy High School librarian and Mrs. Leona Bajoras, fourth grade teacher in the Poquessing Elementary School. There is every assurance that many generations of elementary school teachers and, in turn, the students to whom they pass on their knowledge will enjoy the blessings of this professional library.

Each person to his task. Certainly, the Feasterville public school system is fully living up to its responsibility to teachers and students by instituting modern educational facilities like the recently created Poquessing Elementary school teachers' library. We of the Courier and Times classified advertising department also strive to be completely up to date. For example, our "Gift Spotter" is an innovation. Please refer to the "Gift Spotter" for Christmas shopping ideas every day, Monday through Saturday.

PLEADS GUILTY AS CHARGED TO USED CAR PRICE MURDER

Cold Bloodedly Says, "Maybe I'm Crazy But I'm Not Ashamed. I Want Everyone In Lower Bucks To See What I've Done"

Excited and aroused citizens of Bristol and the entire area have been watching the havoc created by Crowder and his gang in their murdering of used car prices. Crowder, ringleader of this gang, readily admits his guilt in this dastardly crime and says that his only reason is that he must make room on the used car lot for new car trades that are coming in.

Further questioning last night brought out the fact that Bristol Ford has the finest stock of used cars in the area and that all prices have been butchered, slaughtered, slashed and murdered in a manner inconceivable—to folks in this part of the country.

Hollywood Today

By Erskine Johnson

HOLLYWOOD —(NEA) — Hollywoodites Are Talking About: Hedy Lamarr side-stepping direct comment on the state of her marriage to wealthy Texan Howard Lee. She just faced the cameras in Hollywood for the first time since 1951—for the role of Joan of Arc in "The Story of Mankind" — but apparently isn't rushing back to her home in Houston. "It sometimes gets lonely there," she told a Movietown pal. "Howard is very busy and I seldom hear from his family."

Bob Hope changing his mind about the spontaneity of live TV. He's considering a telefilm series in association with Desi Arnaz. . . . Elvis Presley living it up in Las Vegas for a few days before returning to Hollywood for more movie making. . . .Mickey Rooney making a two-week personal appearance tour in Texas, New Mexico and Colorado sponsored by a chain of supermarkets.

The increasing number of U.S. movies being filmed overseas. Twenty out of 46 American productions before the cameras this month are shooting on foreign locations. It's the highest percentage of overseas filming by U.S. companies in the film industry's history.

Alan Ladd's latest business venture—a film studio in Palm Springs, the smog-free winter resort 115 miles from Hollywood.

Movie alley chuckling about the trist. Asked by the medic if he ever had trouble making up his mind, the producer replied:

"Well, yes and no."

That advertisement headed "Make Movies in Peru" in a Hollywood trade paper. "Why pay a million dollars," says the ad, "when for a fraction of the cost you can get a full-length motion picture complete with hundreds of extras, all types of costumes and entire cities constructed for ONLY $39,950?"

Ginger Rogers' hubby, Jacques Bergerac, about to sign on the dotted line for a new telefilm series, "Adventures of Jean Lafitte.". . .Danny Thomas' TV company bankrolling Walter Brennan in another new series, "The Real McCoys."

The flood of screen advertising at movie theaters. Eighty-five per cent of U. S. theaters, it is now estimated, are cashing in on this extra revenue.

TALENT DAY

By MARY EENSIG

Langhorne

Last Wednesday Nov. 21, our school had a talent show at Our Lady Of Grace School. Everyone had to enter and do something.

There was a doctor act which was very amusing, we all know the favorite show of young and old alike called Medic. We had an Elvis Presley who really knows how to play the guitar.

A boy showed us some of his paintings that he had done. They were beautiful. Another boy who was in Japan for two years showed us some of the paper objects which they make in Japan.

It was very interesting. Other people sang, recited poems, acted, told jokes, and some tricks. I guess you are all wondering what I did. Well I'll tell you. I wrote a play, and seven other kids acted in it. Sister said that she would give a prize for the best act. I wonder who will win. Don't You?

WHAT A COMPOSITION

By MICHAEL MONAGHAN
Bristol

In October from the first to the tenth, we had a four hundred word composition to write for Vistarama.

All schools in the Philadelphia district and Bristol had to have it in competition.

We left from school at 11 a.m., it was a free ride and only cost us ten cents to get in. It is usually seventy-five cents.

Vistarama was at Convention Hall in Philadelphia. Our school went on October 9th on a sunny Tuesday.

I have a little sister. Her name is Shelley Gay. She is to young to go to school, so she plays all day.

One day when I came home from school, what do you think I found? I found my sister Shelley eating dirt from off the ground.

She is the ripe old age of four. As you can plainly see. But I will always love her no matter what age she may be.

Russian Tactics Proved Against Former Teachers

PARIS,—(INS)—"Our Russian instructors taught us our military lessons well."

The speaker was Alexander Csuzdi, 23, one of the young people who went up against Soviet tanks in Budapest, and now is in a group of 96 Hungarian refugees being cared for in Paris.

Once a member of the Hungarian Army, Csuzdi was among the many such Soviet-trained soldiers who went over to the patriots' side when Russia moved in to crush the Hungarian rebellion.

He told how the patriots, when they ran short of ammunition, used stones, rocks, and crowbars to fight the red tanks.

"When a tank was caught in a narrow place and unable to maneuver, the crew would open the top turret," he related.

Used Everything

"If we had ammunition, we'd snipe at them with our carbines. If we didn't, we hit them with anything we could find to throw-rocks, stones, anything.

"Molotov cocktails, when we could make them, were effective, too."

The blond, handsome youth, who served before his defection in a Hungarian tank corps, told how one Russian tank was destroyed.

"One of our band leaped up on the rear of the tank and threw a crowbar in the tanktracks.

Killed Crew

"When the tank was out of action, we picked off the crew, one by one, as they tried to escape."

Csuzdi and the other refugees are housed in a Paris gymnasium temporarily. Among his comrades, there were others with stories to tell of the incredible fighting that is estimated to have killed and wounded some 100,000 persons in the Hungarian bloodbath.

One of these is Emil Nyalka, just 17.

"I was hiding in a school along with 150 other students," the boy with a crew-cut recalled. "When the heavy bombardment came, we all crouched in the cellar all night along. Then when things quieted down a bit, we sneaked out in the streets and joined student groups of freedom fighters, fighting street by street, using wrecked buildings as cover."

Russian Jail

Nyalka said he had spent six months in a Russian prison before the revolt and knew first-hand what a Soviet jail meant.

"We hated the Russians and did everything we could to try to get them out of Hungary," he said with feeling.

"The students, particularly, echoed the discontent of the people, who were nothing but slaves under Russian masters."

A 32-year-old former worker in heavy industry, who wanted to remain anonymous, said he and his family walked 30 miles on foot from Gyor to the border -- and freedom.

Freedom

"Freedom", he breathed. "We haven't known freedom in more than 12 years. First it was the Nazis, then the Russians."

This short, dark Hungarian said he feared that if his identity were known, his relatives and friends in Hungary might suffer.

He is luckier than most other refugees. He speaks French and looks forward to finding a job in a short time.

This is not the case for Csuzdi and Nyalka. Like most others in the relief center, they speak only Hungarian.

Family

Csuzdi said his entire family, father, mother and sister, had managed to accompany him in his flight.

The refugees are now quartered in small private rooms, furnished with beds, nighttables, a radio, and chairs. A gay note has been added by partitions of canary - yellow, pullman - type curtains.

On one side of the former gymnasium is a recreation lounge, equipped with a TV set and card tables. At the other end of the building is a dining hall, attractively set with flowers on each table.

Processing

Many of the refugees underwent processing for French identity and work permits in beach-robes that were issued to them.

A number of little children, five or six years old, tagged along after their parents.

Most of the refugees looked bewildered and confused in their new surroundings. They gathered in little clusters and chatted away in excited Hungarian.

Aphis Causes Car Damage

PORTLAND, Me. — UP — Tree surgeon George W. Goddall received hundreds of calls from householders worried about trees under which they park their cars.

Each caller told Goodall that the top of his car was covered with a stickyness. Many wanted to know if Dutch Elm Jisease were to blame.

Not at all, Goodall told them. He said the culprit was the aphis, a sloppy little leaf-sap sucking insect, and the lack of rain was responsible for making his eating habits so noticeable.

The tree expert said the aphis taps a leaf and swallows some of the leaf sap, but the rest just courses over him and drips to the ground, or, on any automobiles parked under the tree where he banquets.

Normal rains usually wash off cars every few days in the summer, but during dry spells the sap just drips and drips on cars to stay—unless the motorist gets out the garden hose.

Syrian Army Poses Threat To Lebanon

Report Of Turkey Says Troops Are Massed On Border

LONDON — UP — Semi-official Turkish sources said today in Ankara that Syria was massing troops on the border of Lebanon in another threat to peace in the troubled Middle East.

The sources said Syria, backed by a flow of arms and ammunition from the Soviet Union, hoped to force its tiny neighbor into the Communist orbit.

In Beirut, the Lebanese parliament urged veteran United Nations diplomat Dr. Charles Malek to rush to New York and do his best to salvage peace in the Mideast and prevent the area from becoming another Korea.

Concerned With Buildup

Turkey and Israel were both increasingly concerned with the reported buildup of Syrian armed strength. Israeli sources reported Turkey has itself moved 35,000 troops to the Syrian frontier, including an infantry brigade and an armed battalion.

An Israeli army spokesman announced last night Syrian troops opened automatic fire at noon yesterday on a public works engineer near Lake Huleh, the first border incident in weeks.

Iraq, a partner in the Baghdad Pact with Turkey, already has warned Syria it will take any action necessary to protect itself against threats to its independence.

Canal Zone Quiet

The situation in the Suez Canal Zone was relatively quiet, but charges by Britain, France and Israel that Egypt was planning the wholesale exile of thousands of their nationals increased the tension.

Good Evening!

November all but wrapped up.

Soon the month with all of its hurry, excitement. You'd better start hustling yourself —only 22 more shopping days.

Still no sledriding, skating, skiing. We're going to have to have a little conference with the weatherman.

But not until after that Army-Navy gridiron classic down at the stadium Saturday.

We still think it's too bad the services don't move that game around the nation from year to year so that more of America could see the country's very best and most inspiring show —live and in person.

However, you notice how the Yanks are doing in the Olympic games at Melbourne?

They're rolling up a commanding lead in points. Maybe the Kremlin is figuring on sending some "volunteers" down to Australia where the Russians are taking a licking?

More trouble brewing in the Middle East as Syria and Iraq begin to point swords at each other.

We might as well get accustomed to the idea that the Middle East will be a sore spot for a long time to come. You just don't cure in a year or so the miseries that were centuries in the making.

The Texan drove his car onto the toll bridge. The gatekeeper stopped him. "Fifty cents," said the gatekeeper.

The annoyed Texan fumbled in his pockets. "Son", he drawled, "I never carry 50 cents. How much do you want for the bridge?"

Breathes there the man with soul so dead who has never turned his head and said: "Hmmmm. Not bad."

If you drive, be careful.

Baby Sitting Proves Costly In This Case

A 15-year-old baby sitter and four teenage friends she invited over for a party while minding two young boys have been arrested on charges of taking $25 and several pieces of jewelry it was revealed by Bristol Township police today.

The girl was watching the seven-and-a-half and nine year-old sons of John W. Merrill, of 19 Grand Pine road, Goldenridge section, Levittown, from 3 p.m. to midnight Sunday. Merrill was at work during that time. His wife was visiting in Maine.

The baby sitter invited three boys and a girl friend over for dancing police said. Merrill said that when he returned home from work everything was quiet. He explained that he didn't know anything was wrong until Monday morning when he went to give his sons money for school.

Money Gone

The money was gone from the drawer, where he kept it. Also he said he noticed the drawer had been ransacked, and that a gold wedding band, a pair of cuff links, a silver dollar and several hunting knives were missing.

He called police who questioned the girl and rounded up her companions. One 17-year-old boy was returned to the county detention home from which he had been released on probation. Three other juveniles were released in the custody of their parents and an 18-year-old was released with no charges against him.

Merrill said that he and his wife had hired the girl many times over the past year and that she had always been reliable. "She is a nice girl but it seems that she just isn't too careful about her friends," he said.

He explained that the party was held in the early part of the evening while his sons were awake. They went to bed about 9 or 9:30 and the party apparently broke up at that time, Merrill said.

Telephone Strike Nears

NEW YORK — UP — Negotiators for long distance telephone operators and maintenance workers go into a final round of talks with the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. today. A union membership vote authorized a nation - wide strike at midnight if no agreement is reached.

A company spokesman said "some progress" had been made Tuesday night in talks with the Communications Workers of America. But Elaine T. Gleason, chief negotiator and president of CWA, said there was no progress.

Bargaining talks, which began Nov. 5, resume this morning.

The contract between the AT&T and CWA expires at midnight.

Union locals in the 48 states, representing 25,000 workers, voted 3 to 1 Tuesday night to give the CWA negotiators power to call a strike any time after midnight, a union spokesman said. However, only 42 states and the District of Columbia would be affected by a walkout. AT&T has no plants in Vermont, New Hampshire, Montana, Oregon, Nevada or Delaware.

Typical Fall Weather Today

A near perfect fall day is on the agenda for Lower Bucks today, the Weather Bureau at Trenton reported this morning.

Blue skies with little wind and temperatures climbing to the mid 40's are expected today. Tonight will be partly cloudy with the thermometer not expected to flip past the freezing mark.

Tomorrow's temperatures will be in the 50's with the reaction expected Friday when the forecast is for cold and clear.

Southampton Development Is Delayed

Supervisors Hold-Up Action As Citizens Protest At Hearing

By LEE CARL
Courier and Times Staff Writer

Demands of Southampton citizens have forced a delay in action on the proposed 200-acre industrial - commercial - residential development for the southern part of Upper Southampton township.

With standing room only in the township's small municipal building, the citizens voiced protests last night against any hasty action by the board of supervisors.

The public hearing was called to hear arguments and decide whether certain zoning adjustments should be made to permit construction of the project. However, the supervisors agreed, after hours of debate, to delay action until advice of the Bucks County Planning Commission is sought.

Most controversial parts of the plan are the industrial and commercial sections. Henry Schwartz, the developer, who petitioned the supervisors for the necessary changes, has planned a large industrial park along the Pennsylvania Railroad between Second Street pike and Gravel Hill road. He also plans a shopping center on Second Street pike, near Rozel avenue.

His petition called for establishment of the commercial zone and

Conspiracy Charge Against Rosen Is Dismissed

Bulletin

President Judge Edward G. Biester late this morning permitted the charges against Rosen to be dropped on the grounds that there was insufficient evidence to connect him with conspiracy in the case.

The victim of a Bristol borough safe burglary yesterday put a crimp in the state's attempt to pin a conspiracy conviction on one of the men allegedly connected with the crime.

Nathan Grodsky, 412 Otter street, Bristol, yesterday in Bucks County Criminal Court substantiated a "long-standing and current friendship" with the man charged with conspiracy, Samuel Rosen, 319 Radcliffe street, Bristol.

Rosen is charged with supplying information which led to the burglarizing of safes from the adjoining homes of Nathan and Peter Grodsky on June 16. The safes contained more than $12,000.

Called as a state witness, Nathan Grodsky, in his testimony, refuted in part much of the earlier testimony of the state's chief witness, Dominic Lattanzi, 227 Railroad avenue, Bristol.

In School Yesterday, Nuns Report

Ten-Year-Old Seen Last By Family Monday Afternoon

Lower Bucks County police today continued their search for a 10-year-old Croydon boy who has been missing from his home since Monday afternoon.

The boy, John Grosser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Grosser, of 2050 Lincoln avenue, Croydon, was last seen at 2:30 p.m. Monday by his sister, Susan, 9.

She said she was boarding a school bus from St. Thomas Aquinas Catholic school when she saw her brother leaving the school grounds. The boy's mother said her son was a good student and very considerate towards his parents. She added that she could think of no reason why he would want to leave home.

Not in School Today

She said Nuns at the school said the boy attended classes yesterday and that he appeared neat and clean although he didn't wear a necktie. However he was not in school today.

She said school authorities said he was an ideal student.

Bristol Township police said the boy is four feet tall and weighs 70 pounds. He has brown hair and blue eyes. At the time he disappeared on Monday he was wearing a blue coat with red stripes on the sleeves.

A truck driver told police chief John R. Stewart he saw a youngster answering the boy's description at 1:30 a.m. yesterday near Lincoln avenue, but the boy ran from the scene when he was approached.

His sister, Susan, was in tears last night. "I want him back. It's not the same without him," she sobbed.

Youth Freed On Burglary Rap In Falls

Court Dismisses Charges On Lack Of Evidence

A 21-year-old youth accused of burglarizing Reedman Motors, Route 1, Falls township, was set free in Bucks County Criminal Court yesterday for lack of sufficient evidence to connect him with the crime.

William Morrison, whose address is listed as Walton street, Bristol, won a dismissal of the charges against him following testimony by all the witnesses for the state before a trial jury.

Judge I. Louis Rubin upheld a motion by Morrison's attorney, Harriet Mims, for a demurrer to the evidence and would not let the case go to the jury.

Morrison, who had a Philadelphia address at the time of his arrest, allegedly took part in the burglary on Feb. 22 with Donald Alston, 19, of Philadelphia, and a juvenile.

Alston subsequently pleaded guilty and on May 8 was sentenced to three months to 364 days in Bucks County Prison. He implicated Morrison in the burglary.

Morrison had to await the outcome of a Philadelphia burglary charge before he could be brought to trial in Bucks County.

Alston pleaded guilty to trying to burglarize four new spare tires and wheels from the trunks of autos on the Reedman Motors parking lot. The tires and wheels were valued at $43 each.

State police of the Fairless Hills barracks prosecuted the case.

News! Horse Rams Car

A Langhorne man was injured late yesterday afternoon after a horse ran into the side of his car.

Richard J. Derry, 42, of 202 Cherry street, was traveling west on U.S. Route 1 at 5:30 p.m. yesterday when a horse ran in front of his vehicle. He slowed down to allow the animal to cross the road and as he resumed speed, a second horse ran into the left side of his car.

Derry was treated at Lower Bucks County Hospital for a laceration of the left eyeball sustained by glass particles from a broken windshield.

The animals belonged to Bradshaw Snipes, who resides along the road at Snipes Corner.

In addition to the broken windshield, the door on the left side of the car was damaged.

Neither of the horses were injured.

Breakfast Club To Seat Officers

Officers of the Credit Women's Breakfast Club of Lower Bucks County will be installed tonight at the group's first annual banquet at the Fiesta, Eddington, at 7 o'clock.

Doctors Keep Watchful Eye On 3-Year-Old

Linconia Youngster Took Pheno-Barbitol Tablets Last Night

Doctors at the Delaware Valley Osteopathic Hospital this morning continued their close watch on a three-year-old Linconia boy who came close to death last night after swallowing 36 sedative tablets.

Hospital officials said the boy, Fred Creasy, of 2362 Kay avenue, was in improved condition today. His condition was critical last night when he was admitted to the hospital.

The boy's mother, Pearl, arrived home last night to discover he had eaten 36 phenobarbitol tablets, a dose doctors said was strong enough to kill an adult. She took him to the office of a Trevose physician, who pumped clear his stomach.

Because many of the tablets apparently had already been absorbed in his system, Fred was taken to the hospital emergency room at 9:30 p.m. A team of doctors under Dr. Arnold Melnick, chief of pediatrics, worked two and one-half hours with antidotes before he regained consciousness. This morning he was receiving oxygen.

The youth's father, home on vacation, was baby-sitting with his two children yesterday. Mr. Creasy said the infant kept running through the house with a large monkey-doll and was apparently eating the pills kept in the parent's bedroom on the dresser.

"I didn't know anything was wrong with the boy," Mr. Creasy said, "until his mother came home from a scout meeting and noticed that he was groggy."

"We rushed him to a doctor after we discovered that he had taken all those pills and then we took him to the hospital." Mr. Creasy said.

Two Bumpy Bensalem Township Roads Serve As Main Arteries For Thousands

By GORDON PARKER
Courier-Times Staff Writer

Two narrow, bumpy macadam roads which fice arteries for Lower fice arteries for Lower Bucks County prove the inadequacy of the state's highway program.

The roads—State road, which runs from City line up to the Route 413 approach of the Burlington-Bristol Bridge, and Street road, which runs from State road to Route 1—serve as vital links for motorists.

But because of the poor conditions they have become extremely hazardous to the ever increasing volume of traffic.

Street road which extends north and south through the entire length of Bensalem township is featured by numerous drainage ditches which run perilously close to the edge of the road.

Hidden Curves

State road, over which many local residents travel to jobs in Philadelphia and many Philadelphians use to come to factories in this area, is pocked-marked and patched in numerous places.

In fact everything that a road shouldn't be is what State road is. Jagged edges from crumbling shoulders reach towards the center of the two-lane "highway".

Hidden, fall-away curves lie in wait for unwary drivers. One curve is particularly dangerous. It is located about half a mile east of Mill road, Andalusia.

Driving towards Philadelphia the road seems to simply drop out of sight. As you approach the road dips and curves sharply around a large tree growing just off the shoulder of the road.

Just in case the unsuspecting driver spots the curve in time there is a well-placed bump which is guaranteed to throw his vehicle out of control and head it towards the broken shoulder on the other side of the crest of the rise.

Bensalem Police Chief William Riempp said that both roads cause most of the one-car accidents in the township. These generally happen when a driver loses control of his vehicle after a bad bump. "Something should be done. They are in terrible shape," he said.

Lone U.S. Newsman In Budapest Gives Report

1500 College Students Wage Guerilla War On Russians

Editor's Note: United Press correspondent Russell Jones, only U.S. newsman in Budapest, made a 320-mile trip into the provinces of Hungary where he was stopped at one point by the most massive display of Soviet armor he has yet seen. In the following dispatch he tells of the trip almost to the Russian and Yugoslav borders and of the guerilla warfare being waged in the mountains by 1,500 college students.

By RUSSELL JONES
UP Correspondent

BUDAPEST — UP — More than 1,500 Hungarian college students are waging guerrilla warfare against the Russians with two 85 millimeter anti-tank guns they captured by getting Soviet soldiers drunk.

Sources in contact with the young Hungarians say the students of Sarospatak College have plenty of food, small arms and ammunition, a few shells for the anti-tank guns, and the protection of wild and broken country. The sources said the students can hold out indefinitely.

The students have rejected numerous Soviet appeals to surrender. They control the area near the Soviet border so thoroughly that Russian units can use only the main roads—and only in daylight.

Stopped By Roadblocks

The story of the continuing fight by the students was given to this correspondent during a visit to Tokaj Tokay, famous wine town near the college. Attempts to enter the area were prevented by heavy Soviet roadblocks equipped with tanks, armored cars, artillery and machine-guns - the heaviest concentration of Soviet forces since the end of the battle of Budapest.

Despite the heavy concentration of Soviet armor as opposed to the two anti-tanks guns held by the students, the mere presence of the guns has thus far scared off any Soviet attempt to force the wilderness fastness.

There were other reports of fighting in the mountains near Miskolc, the big industrial city that was a one - time rebel headquarters near the Soviet frontier. But all the stories were second hand and could not be checked.

Nobody Working

In the dozens of towns and villages we passed through while making a two - day 320 - mile loop from Budapest almost to the northeast frontier and then south toward the Yugoslav frontier, the situation was the same as in the wrecked capital - nobody was working.

Arriving in Miskolc as the first Westerners to visit the city since the revolution, we were almost mobbed by Hungarians eager to learn the latest news from the outside world. Like everyone else in this country they still hope, despite repeated disillusionment, that the West would help.

All along the route we saw evidence that the people of the provinces had risen together with the citizens of the capital in their attempt to win freedom.

Jury Finds Rapist Guilty

A Bucks County Criminal Court jury, composed of four women and eight men, yesterday found Columbus T. Robinson, Langhorne, guilty of the rape of his landlady on Sept. 1.

Robinson, 26, roomed at 314 West Richardson avenue, and raped his landlady, after threatening and cutting her with a knife at least four times.

Judge Edwin H. Satterthwaite deferred immediate sentencing. He ordered Robinson to be examined under the auspices of the state department of welfare, to see if he should be committed under the Sex Offenders Act.

The jury deliberated for almost an hour before returning to the courtroom at 5:15 p.m. At that time, members asked Judge Satterthwaite to redefine the term of rape.

Getting their definition, they returned to the courtroom again at 5:25 p.m. with the guilty verdict.

Witnesses also testifying were Mrs. Carrie Blair, another roomer at the house, and James Faillace, of Fairless Hills state police, who investigated the case.

Captain Kangaroo Visits Levittown

Three thousand Levittown youngsters and their parents flocked to Pomeroy's yesterday to greet Captain Kangaroo, of television fame. The crowungsters in the orthopedic wing of Lower Bucks escalators had to be stopped to prevent a congestion on the second floor of the store. The CBS television star, however, disappointed some 27 youngsters in the orthopedic wing of Lower Buck County Hospital. He was to appear at the hospital, but at the last minute, a spokesman informed authorities that because of the crowds he would not have time to make an appearance.

Lower Bucks Takes Big Step Forward

Lower Bucks County Hospital took a big step forward today when officials announced that an intern training program has been approved for the hospital.

It was disclosed that the Council on Medical Education and Hospitals of the American Medical Association has accepted the hospital's application for intern training.

End of School Year

First interns in Lower Bucks county will begin training at the hospital at the end of the school year in July.

The hospital will accept six interns a year on a rotating basis. They will receive training in all branches of medical education.

Dr. Joseph McMullin, representing the Council on Medical Education of the American Medical Association made a survey last month of the hospital's facilities.

Hospital facilities were examined including records and possibilities of intern education.

The Association's approval today was the result.

Interns will come from approved medical schools in the country, hospital officials said.

Bumpy Roads

near Bristol, bears out the chief's statement.

Patches Patched Up

Your car lurches, jounces, bounces and shudders as it hits a series of bumps, ruts and holes. In some spots even the patches have patches.

Street road is no better. In fact it is worse in some respects. The worst stretch is near Nottingham Village at Route 1. Here the road is full of bumps and edged with deep ditches on either side. At some points the ditches lap right up to the road surface.

The ditches run up to two or three feet deep and resemble wide gorges. Chief Riempp said that numerous times cars have slipped or skidded into the trenches.

Heading toward Eddington the road is not much better. At Stanwood, a new housing development, the road has been widened but motorists are jolted by a series of hard bumps.

The surface continues poor down to the new township high school with numerous cave ins along the shoulders. From the school down to Route 13, Street road is in fair condition.

Not Isolated Cases

These two roads are not isolated cases. In previous stories the "miserable condition" of several other state roads and bridges has been pointed out.

The state road building program in this area has been almost at a standstill while population and automobile traffic has been increasing at an amazing rate.

Despite the increase in traffic and the number of accidents the state highway department has stated that it has no plans to widen two one-lane bridges on Newportville road and Bristol-Oxford Valley road. There is also a lack of plans for the repair or widening of Penn Valley road, which has been reduced to shambles by heavy truck and automobile traffic. At the same time, Bristol-Oxford Valley road, in Middletown Township, remains a series of ruts and mud holes. More than 2000 Levittown families are forced to use this dirt road.

tional headquarters on the banks of the Suez Canal today.

British planes flew over Port Said and dropped thousands of leaflets urging the Egyptian populace to return to work and telling them that Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser "let you down."

Reluctant to Leave

Britain and France were reported even more reluctant to pull all of their troops from the Suez Canal Zone and leave to Egypt the task of cleaning out the canal, blocked by more than 40 ships sunk by the Egyptians.

Egyptian Municipal Minister Abdel Latif Boghdadi told the United Press his experts expected to clear the canal in less than four months, but he said Egypt would not even permit salvage work to start until the Anglo-French expeditionary force withdraws.

Police Posts Tests Slated

Civil Service examinations for positions of Bristol Township policemen will be held tomorrow night at Delhaas High school, Route 413.

Harold Lefcourt, chairman of the township Safety committee, reported that "several new men" will be added to the force around the first of next year.

Couplet Written For Cake Sale

The seventh grade mothers of St. Paul's school, Burlington, are sponsoring a bake sale on Saturday at 10 a.m. The sale will take place in the A.&P. store on High street, Burlington.

"Don't bake that day—omit the fuss,
Stroll by our way—and visit us."

EDGELY

The executive board of the Edgely Parent Teacher Association will meet Wednesday, Dec. 5, 8:00 p.m., at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kroouze, Grieb avenue, Headley Manor.

Weston Move Overruled

The motion of Cyril Weston, West Rockhill township lawyer, to delete more than 200 pages of testimony in his court house injunction action before the State Supreme Court was overruled yesterday in Bucks County court.

Judges Edward P. Little, of Susquehanna County and I. Louis Rubin, of Bucks County, ruled that "all the testimony in the case be submitted" when it comes before the Supreme Court in January. He asked to delete 221 of the 327 pages of testimony.

Mr. Weston is appealing the recent dismissal in Bucks County court, of a previous appeal and injunction action. He is seeking to prevent the Bucks County Commissioners from building the new $6,000,000 court house on the site of the present county building in Doylestown.

Mr. Weston must pay the cost of printing the entire record in his supreme court appeal. The printing cost is estimated at more than $700.

enlargement of area already zoned for industry. The enlargement would permit industrial building on both sides of Keystone road, a proposed industrial highway. The residential part of the plan called for building about 300 homes. The combined project would be the largest development in the Southampton area.

Voicing opposition to hasty action, Frank Uphoff, of the Upper Southampton Civic League, said his organization believed that all zoning changes should be made because the citizens feel they are desirable and not because a developer or land owner wants the changes.

He said the league "stands in direct opposition to this type of administration of the zoning law."

After recommending extensive studies, mapping, and scientific objectivity, Mr. Uphoff stated that it would "be wise not to make the changes tonight." He asked for no action until after the Dec. 6 meeting of the Bucks County Planning Commission, and suggested that each proposal be studied at individual meetings.

Gordon L. Fredendall, of 969 Gravel Hill road, Southampton, said he felt Mr. Uphoff's statement "made sense," and also urged no action at the present time.

"However, if the supervisors feel they should make a decision now, I hope they vote against the changes," said Mr. Fredendall.

Speaking in defense of the proposed project, Mr. Schwartz explained the advantages of having industry on both sides of Keystone road, enabling a buffer area to be established between the industrial park and his housing development. "Otherwise," he said, "homes will be right on an industrial highway." He explained that under the proposed plans traffic would be confined to within the industrial area.

FORUM SPEAKER

Dr. Fayez A. Seyegh, counsellor of the Yeman delegation to the UN, will present "The Arab Point of View" at a World Affairs Forum at the William Penn Center, Tuesday, at 8:30 p.m. This is the second in the series of talks on the Middle East crisis presented by the forum.

Bucks Men Warned On Unification Plan

The Bucks County Boroughs Association last night was warned to steer clear of "pressure groups" seeking to push metropolitan unification plans from Philadelphia.

Julian W. Barnard, vice president of the Pennsylvania State Boroughs association, blasted plans of Joseph S. Clark, former mayor of Philadelphia and U.S. Senator-elect, to embrace sections of Bucks, Montgomery and Delaware Counties into a Greater Philadelphia Metropolitan area.

Morrisville Meeting

The Association met at the Morrisville VFW Hall, with Robert Hershey, of Hulmeville, presiding.

Mr. Barnard warned: "Watch this unification movement and the pressure groups behind it. They seek to control your government, police, schools and other services."

The speaker said the Fraternal Order of Police has "one of the most powerful lobbies in Harrisburg," and ridiculed the FOP for pushing for pension laws to retire policemen at 41, to draw one half his salary, when he has just reached the "prime of his experience and training."

"Says 60 Limit"

Mr. Barnard said, "A policeman should be at least 60 before he is eligible for any kind of pension, unless he is disabled."

Fifty-seven municipal officials attended, representing 12 boroughs in the county. The next meeting will be held Feb. 26, 1957.

Gov. Leader Names Two On Study Commission

John D. Dougherty, of Bristol and Mrs. Elinore Ridge, Morrisville, this morning were appointed by Governor George M. Leader to a commission to study expansion problems of the Greater Philadelphia area.

Authorized by the 1955-56 Legislature, the commission will study and report on the physical extent of the Philadelphia metropolitan area and analyze its governmental, economic and social structure.

Governors J. Caleb Boggs of Delaware and Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey will participate in the study, with state and local governments and planning organizations.

Mr. Dougherty is president of Local 130, AFL-CIO United Auto Workers and a member of the Bristol borough school board. Mrs. Ridge is a member of the Bucks County Planning Commission.

Inauguration Not For The Birds

WASHINGTON — UP — The District of Columbia is trying to make the presidential inauguration in January bird-proof.

The answer may be a preparation called "roost no more."

A tree-spraying crew will test the stuff Thursday on a group of bird-infested trees along the inaugural route.

City officials said that if the birds — mostly starlings — find it objectionable enough to leave permanently, the entire inaugural route will be sprayed.

Driver Held After Chase

A Merchantville, N.J. motorist who led Bristol Township police in a 90-mile hour chase clear into Burlington, N.J., early this morning, faces drunken driving charges.

Patrolmen William Jayne and Henry Kleckner spotted a car, driven by Edward Guenther, 6502 Browning road, Merchantville, speeding on Route 413 near Delhaas high school.

They started out after the car. Patrolman Jayne reported the fleeing car hit speeds up to 85 and 90 miles-an-hour as it headed toward the Burlington-Bristol Bridge.

It continued its high speeds over the bridge, Jayne said. "He took a couple of the turns on the bridge at 65 miles-an-hour. He is lucky he isn't swimming right now," the officer said.

The police continued the chase and caught up with the suspect just past the toll booths on the New Jersey side of the Bridge.

They brought him back to Lower Bucks County Hospital, where he was pronounced intoxicated. He was then given a hearing before JP Earl B. Dougherty, of Edgely, who set $1000 bail for a hearing on Dec. 20.

Guenther was unable to raise bail at first and spent the rest of the night in Bristol Borough jail. He was released this morning.

Rosen Charge

for the burglary. A fourth is awaiting sentencing, and the fifth, Albert A. (Al the Comet) Kumitis, is to be tried next month.

The trial of Rosen, a wealthy real estate agent and businessman, went into its second day today.

Despite gruelling cross-examination yesterday by Rosen's attorney, William L. Goldman, Doylestown, Lattanzi insisted that Rosen supplied the information as to how much money ($100,000 was supposed to be in Nathan Grodsky's safe alone) was in the safes, where they were located and that he (Rosen) was the one who suggested the "job" in the first place.

Claims Didn't Want Money

Lattanzi said Rosen was angry at Grodsky "and wanted to get even." He claimed "Rosen said he had a falling out with 'Nate' Grodsky. He was pretty well peeved, but he wouldn't tell me what it was about."

"He (Rosen) just wanted the safes taken out," Lattanzi testified. "He wasn't interested in the money."

The victim, Grodsky, testified that he has known Rosen since 1951 or 1952, when Rosen fixed part of Grodsky's slaughterhouse roof. He said that after that, Rosen visited his home on numerous occasions.

"Rosen and I bought some land about 1953, but we dissolved the partnership in 1954. I had a heart attack and didn't want to go on with the venture," Grodsky said.

Lattanzi testified earlier in the day that Rosen had told him about the Grodsky safes in the latter part of 1949, after the alleged "falling out" between Rosen and Grodsky.

However, Grodsky testified that "Rosen had never been in my home before 1951 or 1952."

Two Were Friendly

Under cross-examination, Grodsky said, "Our relations (Rosen's and his) were always friendly. We never had any bad blood between us. We are still friendly today, and my wife goes out regularly with Mrs. Rosen."

Grodsky further testified, "I never discussed the money or safes with Rosen. The average money kept in the safes was $4,000 to $5,000, which we'd (he and his brother) take to the bank."

He drew a laugh from spectators when he said, "I never kept $100,000 there. I wish I had that (much)."

Lattanzi also testified earlier that he had never been in the Grodsky home, but Grodsky said he was there "several times" in 1953-1954. He said Lattanzi's visits were confined to the kitchen. The stolen safe was taken from a living room closet.

More Testifying

Grodsky said he never told Rosen where the safe was located and that the closet where it was kept was locked whenever visitors were in the house.

Other witnesses testifying yesterday included Cpl. Andrew Kutney, Fairless Hills state police, Det. Vincent Faragalli, Bristol borough poice, and County Detective Clarence Irwin.
